Senator Asks Soviet Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield challenged the Soviet Union Saturday to offer a resolution in the U.N. Security Council to put that body on record in favor of a halt in the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

The Montana Democrat addressed his statement principally to Moscow but suggested that this step might be taken by any Security Council member that feels cessation of the bombing is an essential prelude to negotiations for ending the Southeast Asian war.

"In that way, perhaps a path to peace may yet be uncovered either inside the U.N. Security Council or, through its initiatives, in some other forum," Mansfield said.

The Senate leader often differs with administration policy on Vietnam and has urged a truce and negotiations.

Mansfield cited numerous recent speeches in the U.N. General Assembly urging that U.S. bombing of North Vietnam stop. He said, "This government has a responsibility, as do all governments, to pay a decent respect to the concerns as well as the opinions of other nations."

But, he continued:

"Well-intentioned or not, however, international advice is not likely to prove very helpful in this instance unless there is a willingness to couple it with a measure of international responsibility in seeking termination of the Vietnam conflict."

"That willingness, I regret to say, is still conspicuously lacking. A willingness to attempt a concrete contribution to a solution of the Vietnamese problem is not present among the Geneva conferees and it is not present in the Security Council."

Soviet Russia is a member of both, Mansfield noted, and has "advised—almost assured—that the cessation will lead to negotiation with North Vietnam."

Military Junta Of Greece Lifts Hold On Premier

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The military junta lifted house arrest restrictions Saturday against former Premier George Papandreu, one of King Constantine's leading opponents. Eight of Papandreu's followers also were freed after signing agreements to stay out of politics.

The action came less than a week after the regime ordered house arrests of Mrs. Helen Vlachou, a newspaper publisher, and Panayiotis Kanellopoulos, the conservative premier thrown out by the military coup d'etat April 21. They were ordered restricted for voicing public criticism of the government.

Papandreu was arrested within hours after the coup, interned for several days in a military hospital, then placed under house arrest. He is 80 but is described as being in good health.

The announcement of the release of Papandreu made no mention of his signing of a pledge to remain out of politics in Greece as his followers had done.

Granting Papandreu freedom appeared to be a move by the military government to placate the rising storm of criticism of the regime as dictatorial and arbitrary.

Under Papandreu's government, bloody rioting broke out as the aged premier defied the young king in a dispute over control of the defense ministry.

Followers of Papandreu were demanding that the monarchy be thrown out. The upshot of the conflict was that Papandreu resigned.

Driver Killed By Vandal As Truckers Still Hold

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A truck driver was killed by a truck Saturday as snipers and vandals zeroed in on trucks in five states, shattering the relative calm of the past two days in the steel haulers' rebellion.

Fresh outbursts of stonings and shootings flared in Pennsylvania as National Guardsmen pushed across the state in convoys, sent on special weekend maneuvers to be near trouble spots.

A rock heaved from an overpass on U.S. 23 near Flint, Mich., struck Frederick E. Beck, 40, of Wayne, Mich. A second rock shattered his right windshield and the big rig swerved off the highway and plowed into a field.

Beck's death, if confirmed by state police to be connected with the violent splattered strike by dissident Teamsters, would be the first since it began seven weeks ago.

Ironically, Beck was hauling animal remains on two flatbed trailers, but a trooper said "it could easily be mistaken for a steel hauling truck."

The 10,000 to 20,000 maverick drivers, who drive and lease their own rigs to private trucking firms, are pressing their union for a better contract by shutting down the highway movement of steel.

Steel firms have been forced to cut production, workers have been laid off and construction in many areas has been cramped.

The Pennsylvania Mines Department said coal mines operated by the steel producers face a possible shutdown. A spokesman said delivery of rock dust used to avert coal dust explosions has been hampered by the strikers, severely limiting the supply.

"If not enough dust is available, the mines must cease," the spokesman said.

Some 300 uniformed National Guardsmen of the 165th Military Police Battalion in East Pennsylvania were ordered to maneuvers in the troubled-plagued western part of the state. The governor's office said the action didn't constitute a call-up, but interpreted it as a psychological move to stem the violence and quiet the fears of highway travelers.

Meanwhile, representatives of the governors of Maryland, Michigan, New Jersey, New York and West Virginia are scheduled to meet in Pittsburgh Monday with Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer. They will sign down with trucking company officials, Teamsters and the striking drivers in an effort to resolve the dispute.

The drivers want the union to reopen their national contract signed last spring with the trucking firms. The union said no to the demand. The drivers also want their share of shipping fees hiked 6 per cent to 79 per cent and paid for waiting at mills to be loaded.

Trucking executives in the Pittsburgh area have agreed to enforce federal regulations granting pay for wait time—a chief issue in the strike. Current Interstate Commerce Commission tariff schedules in the area allow $4 after two hours. The drivers want $15 after two hours.

LAKE MICHIGAN MAY SOON BECOME CESSPOOL: NELSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Applauding the calling of a conference of governors to discuss the pollution of Lake Michigan, Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., says that unless something is done soon the lake will become a cesspool.

In a letter made public Saturday, Nelson congratulated Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois for calling a conference of governors of Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin.

"We will all be living on the shores of a disgusting municipal and industrial cesspool" unless the pollution trend in Lake Michigan is reversed in a few years, Nelson said.

"It will be a dead lake—a dramatic monument to the ignorance and avarice of contemporary society," Nelson wrote.

He suggested to Kerner that a state-federal conference might be the only way to stop pollution of the Great Lakes.

State-federal conferences proved effective in stemming pollution of the Detroit River in Michigan and the Mississippi River in Minnesota, Nelson said.

Nine U.S. Planes Claimed By Reds

SAIGON (AP) — A broadcast dispatch from Hanoi declared North Vietnam's airmen and ground gunners shot down nine U.S. planes Saturday. There was no official comment in Saigon.

American jet squadrons, which have struck lately at bridges only 10 miles from Red China's frontier, were striving to paralyze enemy supply lines before the imminent northeast monsoon shrouds North Vietnam in rain and fog.

The official Vietnam News Agency said that, of the nine planes, three were felled over Hanoi and one over the repeatedly raided port of Haiphong.

Even while the jets roared in and out on their strike missions, there was speculation among military and diplomatic sources that, after foul weather limits air operations, Washington will call one and possibly several halts.

Reasoning was that the allies could win a maximum number of points internationally at a minimum cost to the war effort by a pause that might stretch into several weeks.

The overshadowed ground war picked up Friday and the U.S. Command said 230 of the Viet Cong and their North Vietnamese allies were killed in a series of actions around South Viet Nam.

American forces were reported to have accounted for 133 in sharp fights in the Mekong Delta and the central highlands that cost them 16 dead and 34 wounded.

Democrats Hear LBJ Reaffirm Vietnam Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said Saturday night next year's election campaign "will be a testing time for America," giving voters a choice between progress under the Democrats or abandonment of national hopes "in a shroud of inaction and reaction."

Johnson said there are plenty of suggestions on how to get out of foreign and domestic troubles "cheaply and fast" but he said most of them boil down to irresponsibility.

His remarks were prepared for a $1,000-a-couple dinner-dance designed to raise money for the Democratic party.

Conceding that he faces mounting difficulties—and dwindling popularity in public opinion polls, the President said:

"We can take the easy road now, denying our responsibilities, hoping that a rise in our polls will compensate for what we ought to have done for our country."

(Turn To Page Eight)

Two battalions of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division—perhaps 1,500 men—probed delta swamps and bamboo stands about 50 miles southwest of Saigon for survivors of a Viet Cong battalion shot up by a U.S. Army-Navy riverine battalion and supporting jet planes.

The Americans had reported after an 8½-hour battle Friday that they killed 73 of the enemy. After sporadic action through the night, they found 21 more Viet Cong bodies.

Weather May Alter Bombing Of North

SAIGON (AP) — Both diplomatic and military sources here expect one and possibly several halts in the U.S. air war against North Vietnam in the coming months.

The chief reason seems to be, they say, that the allies can win a maximum number of points internationally at a minimum cost to the war effort.

Bad weather already has begun to cut back the number of missions against major targets in the North. The bad weather, which is spawned ironically from high pressure systems in Soviet Siberia and Red China, became far worse over the winter.

Military sources say both the Navy and Air Force presently are on maximum effort schedules to inflict as much damage as possible, especially on targets newly approved by President Johnson, before the clouds move in.

During the peak of the winter monsoon, bombing missions often are cut to 75 per cent of summer schedules. Most of the raids carried out then are directed at secondary targets.

President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu has promised to ask the United States to stop the air war for at least one week after his inauguration if he feels this could lead to opening peace negotiations with Hanoi. Thieu is slated to be installed as president early in November. Also traditionally there is a bombing halt and a military standstill for Christmas and the New Year, as well as for Vietnam's lunar new year.

There is some speculation that, in response to strong pressure on Washington for a major bombing pause which advocates say could create a climate favorable to negotiations, a prolonged halt may come this winter—one of several weeks or possibly longer.

During this period fresh diplomatic efforts could be carried out in neutral and Communist bloc capitals by the United States to get North Vietnam to the peace table.

One argument is that a long pause would provide time to gauge North Vietnam's intentions, cover the traditional truce periods and satisfy world opinion with little military risk beyond that which would be caused by the weather.

Cardinal 'Cop' Argues 'Moving With The Times'

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, self-defined "policeman" of Roman Catholic faith and morals, defended Saturday a controversial document on doctrine under attack by progressive prelates at the church's Synod of Bishops.

The aging, half-blind cardinal, long regarded as the symbol of Church conservatism, declared anew that errors and deviations were occurring in the Church.

But he argued that the powerful Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, which he runs in the Roman Curia—the Church's central administration—was moving with the times.

It was the first time Cardinal Ottaviani had spoken since the synod began a week ago.

For three days a document drafted in his office on "dangers to the faith" has stirred considerable controversy among the 200 bishops called from around the world to advise Pope Paul VI on church government.

The text was denounced by some speakers on grounds it was too negative and not in keeping with the Church renewal spirit of the Second Vatican Council. So Cardinal Ottaviani's words had been awaited.

There was wide opinion among clerical observers that the synod's first week had been a strong success for those advocating freer debate in the Church and continued renewal.

UAW Checking National Strike Possibilities

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union will decide Sunday how much it will cost its working members to back a nationwide strike against Ford Motor Co. and any other walk-out in the auto industry this year.

Some 3,000 UAW delegates have been summoned to a special convention in Detroit where they will be asked to approve an emergency dues increase to bolster the union's diminishing strike fund.

Some 160,000 UAW Ford workers began the second month of their strike against the nation's No. 2 automaker Saturday, and there has been no indication that negotiators are any closer to a settlement than they were when the walkout began at midnight Sept. 6.

Payments of from $10 to $30 a week to each striker has placed a drain of $4 million a week on the strike fund, which stood at $67 million before the Ford workers walked off their jobs. Later strikes, which some are saying would hit General Motors, would burden the fund still more.

Delegates to the Sunday convention will consider a temporary dues increase, starting in November, of perhaps as much as $20 a month. Dues are $5 per month.

"Under those conditions, the strike fund wouldn't last long," said Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer, of the possibility of a GM strike.

Priests Favor Celibacy Option By 50-50 Vote

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A survey of Missouri Roman Catholic diocesan priests showed that about one half of them are in favor of a change to optional celibacy.

The survey was conducted by the Missouri Inter-Diocesan Coordinating Committee. A three-part questionnaire was sent to 799 priests and 418 replied. Forty-nine percent of the priests favored a change to optional celibacy for diocesan clergy and 47 per cent opposed it. The other four per cent said they had no opinion.

In the St. Louis Archdiocese 76 of the 96 pastors opposed a change. Of the younger St. Louis priests, serving as assistant pastors and teachers, 90 out of 150 favored a change.

The priests were asked if they favored the national conference of bishops seeking permission of the synod of Rome to introduce

18 To Stand Trial On Rights Slaying

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — Eighteen white men, including a Ku Klux Klan chieftain and three law officers, face federal trial Monday in the 1964 slaying of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss.

Imperial Wizard Sam Holloway Bowers Jr., of the militant White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey and Deputy Cecil Price, along with Sheriff-elect Ethel Glen "Hop" Barnett, head the list of defendants.

All are charged with conspiracy to violate the civil rights of the three workers. The state has never filed murder charges in the case. When testimony begins in this east-central Mississippi city, about 35 miles from where the three were slain, the government is expected to reveal for the first time how it believes the men were killed.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Harold Cox, 65, a stern veteran of many civil rights cases, has set aside 10 days for the trial.

The three civil rights workers, Michael H. Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both white and from New York, and James Chaney, 22, a Negro from Meridian, were found Aug. 4, 1964, buried in an earthen dam 44 days after their deaths.

The first set of charges and the initial indictments were later dismissed. The government obtained its latest indictments last February against 19 men, one of whom won't be on trial.

James E. Jordan, 40, has had his case transferred to the Atlanta district. Federal sources said Jordan had turned state's evidence and would be a key witness in the prosecution. His current address remains a secret, with agents refusing to name even the state where he now lives.

YOUNG DEMOS TOLD GROUP IMPORTANCE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Young Democrats of Illinois were warned Saturday that Democrats to win in 1968 must recapture the young voters between 21 and 30.

State Sen. Paul Simon said surveys indicated the Democrats lost that age group almost 2-1 in the 1966 election, "and to win in 1968 we must reverse that."

State Auditor Michael J. Howlett said that although better educated than their elders, young people participate less in the elective process than any other age group.

Howlett said it is up to the young Democrat and Young Republican organizations in Illinois to improve the voting records of their contemporaries.

Cardinals Take Series Lead 2-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis forged a 2-1 lead in the 1967 World Series by defeating Boston 5-2 Saturday on Nelson Briles' seven-hit pitching and the strong batting of Mike Shannon and Lou Brock.

Shannon slammed a two-run homer in the second inning after Brock's triple and a single by Curt Flood gave the Cards a 1-0 lead in the first. Gary Bell, Boston's starting pitcher, went out for a pinch hitter in the third inning after yielding five hits over the first two frames.

Rookie Reggie Smith's seventh inning homer accounted for the second run off Briles, who made his Series debut. Boston scored its first run in the sixth on a single by pinch-hitter Mike Andrews, a sacrifice and another single by Dalton Jones.

Brock tallied the Cards' fourth run in the sixth after opening with a bunt single and racing to third on pitcher Lee Stange's wild pickoff throw. Roger Maris drove in the run with a single.

Maris' infield single and Orlando Cepeda's double accounted for the final run of the game in the eighth.

Plate Umpire Frank Umont eased a mild argument touched off when Briles hit Boston star Carl Yastrzemski with a pitch in the opening inning. Dick Williams, the Red Sox' manager, complained that the Cards' hard-throwing right-hander had deliberately thrown at Yastrzemski.

Umont called Manager Red Schoendienst out of the St. Louis dugout and told the skipper he would handle the situation.

Soviet Russia is a member of both, Mansfield noted, and has "advised—almost assured—that the cessation will lead to negotiation with North Vietnam."

Military Junta Of Greece Lifts Hold On Premier

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The military junta lifted house arrest restrictions Saturday against former Premier George Papandreu, one of King Constantine's leading opponents. Eight of Papandreu's followers were freed after signing agreements to stay out of politics.

The action came less than a week after the regime ordered house arrests of Mrs. Helen Vlachou, a newspaper publisher, and Panayiotis Kanellopoulos, the conservative premier thrown out by the military coup d'etat April 21. They were ordered restricted for voicing public criticism of the government.

One argument is that a long pause would provide time to gauge North Vietnam's intentions, cover the traditional truce periods and satisfy world opinion with little military risk beyond that which would be caused by the weather.

Cardinal 'Cop' Argues 'Moving With The Times'

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, self-defined "policeman" of Roman Catholic faith and morals, defended Saturday a controversial document on doctrine under attack by progressive prelates at the church's Synod of Bishops.

The aging, half-blind cardinal, long regarded as the symbol of church conservatism, declared anew that errors and deviations were occurring in the Church.

But he argued that the powerful Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, which he runs in the Roman Curia—the Church's central administration—was moving with the times.

It was the first time Cardinal Ottaviani had spoken since the synod began a week ago.

For three days a document drafted in his office on "dangers to the faith" has stirred considerable controversy among the 200 bishops called from around the world to advise Pope Paul VI on church government.

The text was denounced by some speakers on grounds it was too negative and not in keeping with the Church renewal spirit of the Second Vatican Council. So Cardinal Ottaviani's words had been awaited.

There was wide opinion among clerical observers that the synod's first week had been a strong success for those advocating freer debate in the Church and continued renewal.

House To Consider Federal Pay Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members who have voted twice in recent weeks for curbs on federal spending get another chance this week when they consider a multibillion-dollar pay increase for federal employees.

And although there is little likelihood of action soon on President Johnson's tax increase proposal, members will vote on what Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, calls a "stamp tax" in the form of increases for all classes of postal rates.

The two proposals are combined in a bill that comes up for House debate Tuesday, with final action scheduled Wednesday.

Both the postal rate and the federal pay increases in the bill exceed Johnson's recommendations, and the net effect will be to increase the federal deficit each year.

Democratic leaders expect the combined measure to pass, although many congressmen are a bit hesitant about approving the big pay hike in the current budget-cutting mood.

The bill calls for a 6 per cent pay boost for postal workers and a 4½ per cent increase for other federal employees, retroactive to Oct. 1, for a fiscal 1968 cost of some $628 million.

Additional pay increases in July 1968 and April 1969, which are expected to come under heavy attack, would bring the cost to $1.9 billion in fiscal 1969 and $2.6 billion in fiscal 1970.

The bill calls for a 6 per cent pay boost for postal workers and a 4½ per cent increase for other federal employees, retroactive to Oct. 1, for a fiscal 1968 cost of some $628 million.

Additional pay increases in July 1968 and April 1969, which are expected to come under heavy attack, would bring the cost to $1.9 billion in fiscal 1969 and $2.6 billion in fiscal 1970.

The postal rate section, which would raise letter stamps from five to six cents and airmail from eight to 10 cents effective a month after the bill is enacted, would eventually raise $885 million once all provisions take effect in fiscal 1971.

This, however, is only about one-third the amount of additional costs from the pay sections.

Gross, who dissented sharply from the Post Office Committee's report on the bill, plans to make efforts to send the whole thing back to committee, to reduce the first-class postage increases and to knock out the 6 second and third-year pay raises.

Teachers And The Law

A New York court has fined the teachers union there $150,000 for shutting down the schools for 17 days with an illegal strike. The president of the union was fined $250 and sentenced to serve 15 days in jail.

The union calls this grossly unfair—similar to the witchcraft trials of Colonial days—and an appeal will be taken that may ultimately reach the U.S. Supreme Court. Labor leaders everywhere joined in protesting the decision, and in Chicago, John Desmond, president of the Chicago Teachers Union, said the teachers "again have been singled out as a whipping boy for the many ills of society."

The decision in this case is of vital importance that it should be appealed to the highest court in the land, for it bears on a problem rapidly growing to crisis proportions: Is the strike a valid weapon in the area of essential public service?

The New York teachers strike was the first test of a new state law that sets forth the conditions under which public employes may organize and bargain collectively, and at the same time forbids a strike. Yet the decision has wide application elsewhere, for the teachers union not only tried to circumvent that law, but it also defied an injunction after the strike began.

Justice Emilio Nunez heard the case in New York's State Supreme Court—the equivalent of the Circuit Court in Illinois. And what he had to say deserves the thoughtful attention of citizens anywhere.

"Law means nothing unless it means the same law for all," said Justice Nunez. "This strike by a powerful union against the public was a rebellion against the government; if permitted to succeed it would eventually destroy government with resultant anarchy and chaos."

This is the heart of the matter. A society that can tolerate strikes in private industry even at a high price to the economy cannot tolerate strikes in the public sector that amount to rebellion. To do so renders the law meaningless, applying to some but waived for others. And whether they be teachers or firemen or any other group employed by the public, they cannot defy one law and expect protection under another.

"Our existence as a free people," Justice Nunez said, "is dependent on a healthy respect for law and order. For ours is a society open and ordered, animate and free, and it can continue so only so long as we maintain our liberties under the law."

"Irony indeed is the fact that this basic lesson in civics must be taught anew to, of all pupils, the very persons to whom we daily entrust our tender offspring for training and development as the leaders of tomorrow."

That just about says it all. The nation's teachers would do well to take the lesson to heart.

Hobo Stew For Weekends

It is a fine old American custom to pass around recipes. Thus we are moved to present our readers with details of a mulligan stew formula that sounds dandy for weekend family gatherings these brisk fall days, almost as good as burgo.

We are indebted for this knowledge to the Midland Cooperator, a weekly publication which recently covered the 67th annual Hobo Day festivities at Britt, Ia. The piece de resistance was the aforementioned stew, compounded of the following ingredients: 700 lbs. potatoes, 150 lbs. cabbage, 100 lbs. each of rutabagas, onions and rice, 2 crates celery, 400 lbs. stewing beef, 1 lb. chili powder, 25 lbs. salt, 5 lbs. black pepper, 3 gal. tomato paste. As to procedure, the first thing is to soak the vegetables overnight in three clean 200-gallon stock watering tanks. For the rest of it we quote the Cooperator:

"Pre-cook the meat as soon as stove is working in the morning. When meat is cooked, place meat, vegetables and remaining ingredients in the 18 kettles and add water to make 25-30 gallons of stew in each kettle, depending on thickness desired. The cooking will take about five hours to make the stew piping hot. Serve in anything that will contain the stew and provide lots of bread to sop up the broth."

Simple, huh? And satisfying. The common verdict heard at Britt was, "It's good, but it's hot." Some may consider the yield — about 540 gallons — rather large. It could doubtless be scaled down a trifle. But not too much. When the aroma starts drifting about the neighborhood, a few neighbors might drop in.

New Capital 'Honor Roll' Is A Dubious Distinction

By DAVE BURGIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Washington has a posh new restaurant, a double-decked barge moored on the Tidal Basin not far from the Jefferson Memorial. It is named the Gangplank and sports a gimmick which could become part of the American scene.

The owners of the place announced that the political personality who makes the week's biggest booboo will win the weekly "Gangplank Award."

And the man or woman who pulls three such boners will have his name permanently inscribed on the Gangplank honor roll.

To build business the restaurant's socially "in" young owners plan to publicize the award all they can.

Winner the first week: Michigan Gov. George Romney, for his "brainwashing" blast at President Johnson.

THE HOUSE Education and Labor Committee nearly had a fist fight and free-for-all on its hands when two Democratic members went at each other in a recent closed-door session.

According to inside reports, Reps. Sam H. Gibbons of Florida and John H. Dent of Pennsylvania began to bellow at each other over a bill dealing with age discrimination in employment, authored by Dent. Gibbons offered an amendment but Dent promptly labeled it "phony."

After more heated words, Gibbons reached for a metal water pitcher, witnesses said, and started toward Dent — apparently to make one. Other tempers flared when everybody jumped to stop what looked like a skulking.

The House Education and Labor Committee, it must be remembered, is the very same which has been investigating riots in places like Newark and Detroit.

"Now they know how one starts," our source said.

CITY HALL can be fought. Mail is one way, senators and congressmen will tell you. More than one politician has changed his vote because bags full of constituent mail told him to.

Sometimes even one letter can do it, as Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., now attests.

"About a month ago I received a letter from a troubled man whom I won't soon forget," Pike said. "He was troubled because he said he saw the American taxpayers being taken for a bumpy ride on some purchases which may have looked small in the great scheme of things, but which looked pretty big to him."

Congressmen get lots of letters containing broad and general complaints, so I asked him to document his charges. To my considerable surprise, the young man did so completely."

The young letter-writer concentrated on the Defense Department in his own private investigation. In one example, he charged the Pentagon spent $33,000 for the purchase of 130 small knobs, which should have cost no more than $210.60.

The astonished Pike looked into the charge and the Defense Department confirmed "an error." The total result of this one letter: Pike is trying to persuade the House to look at the overall Defense Department procurement program.

China Generals Drag Feet On All-Out Backing Of Mao

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — This reporter's contacts in Hong Kong, Seoul and Tokyo have compiled some startling data on the Red Chinese army.

The bits and pieces these informants have collected add up to a virtual certainty that Mao Tse-tung's military forces are in no position at all to move strongly into the Vietnam war. The data suggests Mao's armies could not be made into a unified fighting force unless Red China itself were invaded.

The reports include individual data on 311 regional and provincial commanders, their deputies and political commissars. Data is included on which of these men have sided with Mao and those who have sided against him or stayed neutral.

In the gigantic struggle now going on within Red China, Mao and his deputy, Lin Biao, have put heavy pressure on the army commanders to voice their support.

Nevertheless, the astonishing fact is that of the 311 officers on this list, only 47 have voiced their support of Mao. Less than 10 per cent of the key officers in this group — Communist China's provincial military commanders — have come out for Mao and Lin. The rest are either in opposition or are holding back to see which way the wind will blow.

Lin Biao has in progress a thorough purge of the army, navy and air force. A listing of those men who have been ousted in Communist China's "Pentagon" indicates the purge has been deep.

The countryside is a different matter. Though Lin has ordered the removal of scores of higher officers in the provinces, the evidence is that these purges are largely paper shifts. Most of the purged officers have defied Mao and Lin and have refused to be ousted from their posts. These men are safe in most cases — so long as their fellow officers and troops stick with them — provided, of course, Mao and Lin are unable to send in superior forces.

In a good many instances, the top regional and provincial officers and their deputies have been in command of their units for many years. Their junior officers and noncommissioned officers are their men, appointed by them and loyal to them.

Thus, in a considerable number of places, there appear to be two sets of officers — those ordered by Lin to take over and those actually in command.

To Mao and Lin and to their opponents as well control of mainland China is more important than what's happening in Vietnam. Chinese army officers have learned the hard way that when their armies are committed to battle, and they lose men and arms, they thereby lose the military power to hold their own in Red China's political battles.

Therefore, while China's internal struggle continues, each general will want to conserve his troops and his arms in order to protect his own position.

The situation is not like the Korean war, where the Red generals saw a chance to make themselves reputations that would help them up the power ladder.

Under the present circumstances, some of these Red Chinese generals might be ripe for a quiet approach from outside by men who could furnish them money and arms to enable them to better hold their own against Mao and Lin.

Ann Landers: WAC Separation Advice Confirmed

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I don't know who the "authorities" are that you checked with, but my common sense tells me you were wrong when you said the WAC who got pregnant by a married officer did not receive a dishonorable discharge. How could the military authorities consider such an act honorable? If ever a person deserved a discharge, she did.

Please check again and tell your readers that the United States Army does not reward such disgraceful conduct by condoning it. Thank you. —A REAL AMERICAN

Dear R. A.: Thank you for writing. The following letter should be of interest to you:

Dear Ann Landers: I was interested in the letter from the reader who wanted to know if it was possible that her WAC friend who was five months pregnant received a discharge that wasn't dishonorable. Please print this for her to see:

When I was a member of the WAC, my closest friend became involved with an enlisted man whom she did not want to marry. Her secret was so closely guarded that nobody knew she was pregnant. She looked a little heavy and we all teased her about it, but she laughed it off.

If it had not been for the required annual physical I believe she could have stayed in the service until the delivery date. As it was, she was separated from the service three weeks before the baby was born. The baby was put up for adoption and my friend re-enlisted within 90 days, which enabled her to keep her rank of Specialist Fourth Class.

I am proud that the United States Army takes this enlightened view toward out-of-wedlock pregnancy. They do not make a girl pay the rest of her life for one mistake. Please print my letter so all Americans can be as proud of their country as I am. —AN EX-WAC

Dear Ann: I hope the engaged couple will take your advice and say NO to the girl's parents who are pressuring them to move into an apartment at the back of their home. We had the same problem and it nearly broke up our marriage.

My parents insisted we move in with them when we returned from our honeymoon. They made it real easy — no rent, just buy the groceries. It was fine for two weeks and then the trouble began. They heard every argument Tom and I had and came right in to referee. My dad began to boss Tom and give him all kinds of unwanted advice. Whenever we had company, my folks walked in and sat down. When our son was born my mother took over. I could hardly get near him. This was the last straw. We announced that we were moving into our own place. My folks were so hurt they cried. We moved anyway.

Two years have passed and I can truthfully say we never knew real happiness until we got into a place of our own. So please, Ann, keep dishing out that hard-boiled, but sensible advice. And repeat that last sentence of advice to the engaged couple. It was a gem. —FOR YOU

Dear For: O.K. I will: "Children owe their parents a great deal, but they are not obligated to keep them company for the rest of their lives."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Communication

As we live in a time of discord, with riots, wars, and protests of every kind, we stop and ask ourselves, "What is the reason?" If everyone would honestly and sincerely answer this question, we would discover that it is a lack of "inner peace," "individuality," and courage enough to express our beliefs.

This nation is said to be a Christian nation. It definitely is not. Religious, perhaps, but not Christian. At a class reunion recently practically everyone was partaking in alcoholic beverages. This is only one example of the majority of Americans who put worldly pleasures before true Christian ideals and morals. Drinking is used as an excuse to enjoy any occasion — Christmas, New Year's,

Stand Up and Be Counted
As Your Own Man's Man

David Poling

By DAVID POLING
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
In a day of mass entertainment, mass communication and massive manipulation by government, it is time to go against the stream. Of course, some people feel comfortable with the herd. But I believe that our need for adventure is as great as our security — so the willingness to challenge the tastemakers, the news manipulators, the dressmakers and hair stylists. There are certain rules or maxims to consider.

● Be wary of crowds. If the wolf pack is screaming for a vacation in Europe and everyone is going to Florida this winter, head for Mexico. Crowds are untidy, noisy and push up prices. Save your nerves and money in Monterey.

● If everyone continues to talk about last night's television program or last Sunday's game, start buying some good books. Television so far seems to be draped between the coral posts of Bonanza and the goal posts of Green Bay. Just like last year. Let the tube people be like lose but the commercials and a half-time headache. (Can you stand one more season of massed bands from Massillon?)

● Scrutinize the cultural, commercial scene. Is everyone looking at a new house, trading for a new car or thinking of a new wife? Fool them. Fix up the old house, get a set of tires for the old wagon and slip away for weekend with your wife. Remember, a family that plays together, pays together or something.

● Think politics. You might, for example, challenge the consensus of President Johnson if it no longer speaks for you. Let him know that he has lost your vote over a federal budget that may go $30 billion in the red. Tell him you gasp at the casualty figures from Vietnam as well as in Detroit. Write him weekly. The masses couldn't care less but you do. Tell him how it is in a nice, personal, handwritten letter. Let other people send their post cards to Ben Cartwright; you're corresponding with the President.

● Be suspicious of mass circulation magazines. They aim at an average reader, so watch out. If they have more than 10 million readers, panic! Sharpen your mind and stir your conscience with some of the powerful little magazines. Like Here and Now, a monthly published at 111 W. Monument Ave., Dayton, Ohio. It deals with current religious problems, issues and opportunities without funny words or pulpit tones. So does Renewal, 19 S. LaSalle St., Chicago, or Fellowship, Box 271, Nyack, N.Y. These are great journals with small circulation. You can have them all, plus the Ecumenist put out by the Paulist Fathers in Glen Rock, N. J., for the price of Playboy — even with its clergy discount! (The Rev. Poling is associate editor of the Christian Herald.)

George Potter, 71, Dies Friday

George W. Potter, 71, of Concord passed away Friday evening at Passavant hospital where he had been a patient ten days.

Born at Fishhook April 15, 1896, he was the son of Wilson and Emma Rusk Potter. He was married to the former Leola Gleckler, who preceded him in death.

One daughter, Loretta, wife of Paul Kelly of Concord, survives.

He later married the former Anna Hendricks, who survives with a stepdaughter, Betty, wife of Robert Williams of Quincy.

Also surviving are five brothers: Leslie of Jacksonville, John and Timothy, both of Baylis, Ray and Wayne, both of Quincy; two sisters, Mrs. Maggie Martin and Mrs. Lula Stauffer of Baylis; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. One sister preceded him in death.

Mr. Potter, a farmer, was a member of the United Brethren church at Fishhook. He served with the U.S. Army during World War One.

The body was taken to the Williamson Funeral Home where the family will meet friends from 7-9 p.m. Sunday. Services will be held at the funeral home at 1:30 p.m. Monday with burial to be in Baylis cemetery.

"Record" Magazine For Blind Publishes Local Woman's Poem

by Andrea Heiss

Few people would think of sitting down and writing both a book and poetry after typing through an eight-hour day.

Mrs. R. A. Rawlings, however, does. By writing both prose and poetry she creates word pictures of warmth and perception.

But the beauty she sees is not through her eyes.

A long-time resident of Jacksonville, Mrs. Rawlings gradually lost her sight during childhood. She did not become totally blind, though, until the birth of her only son some twenty-eight years ago. Obviously this has not hindered her capabilities.

Busy Life Offers Challenges
A stenographer in the Social Service Department of the Jacksonville State Hospital, she has worked there for the past nineteen years, raised a son, and manages the household affairs for her husband, also blind, who is Chief Telephone Operator for the Jacksonville State Hospital. She has also written many speeches, letters, papers, and book reviews for other people, aside from her personal hobbies of reading, crocheting, and gardening.

Recently one of her poems, "The Power of Words," was printed in Dialogue. A quarterly publication, Dialogue is recorded on four disc records containing about six hours of reading. It is available to local residents through the Illinois Braille and Sight-Saving School.

Enjoys Reading and Writing
Writing has always been a part of Mrs. Rawlings' life. In grade-school she occasionally wrote short poems. During her high school years her material was often published by papers and magazines, earning her an amount from fifty cents to five dollars.

"You don't know how much this helped during the depression! Then, the material for a dress might cost only fifty cents. In fact, I sold most of my high school themes," Mrs. Rawlings recalled.

An avid reader, she enjoys all kinds of literature and is "fascinated with everything."

STENOGRAPHY TO POETRY—Mrs. R. A. (Susie) Rawlings (r) a stenographer in the social service department of the Jacksonville State hospital talks over a work assignment with Mrs. Marguerite Glascock, coordinator, family care program, in the social service department. Mrs. Rawlings, although blind, has been writing poetry since high school.

She can read braille rapidly and also listens to records on a complex, three-way radio, tape recorder, and record player system which reaches every room in her two-story home.

"I have always been fond of the study of words—I try to realize the importance of everything we say in our relations with others," Mrs. Rawlings admitted. "Perhaps working where I do has increased my awareness and understanding of people more than anything else."

Why did she write a book? "When I first began work, I pestered everyone with questions. Finally one doctor replied, 'If you're so interested, why don't you write a book?' So I did!"

The Middle of the Road concerns a group of related short stories about mental patients. "It is my aim," Mrs. Rawlings said, "to paint a number of word portraits of the various types of mental illnesses."

Finds Vacation Rewarding
After Mrs. Rawlings had worked at the hospital six years, she began to write her book. It is dedicated to her belief that "no extreme is good for humanity."

"The middle of the road" is an emotional safety zone, according to Mrs. Rawlings, and "one having crossed that line into the land of unreality, it is a long, hard way back."

Although Mrs. Rawlings has submitted her work to several editors, it remains unpublished. One editor suggested that her stories were adaptable for magazine publishing.

"But if you don't have the degree, you don't get it. I'm just an ordinary housewife and stenographer with no doctoral degree," she remarked.

But Mrs. Rawlings' lack of a degree does not diminish her keen appreciation for beauty. Attuned to the rhythm of nature, her descriptive phrases reveal an awareness of gentle breezes and cool summer rains.

Her book shows perceptive insight about the problems involved in mental illness.

Ashland Boy Hurt On Honda In Puerto Rico

ASHLAND — Mrs. Irene Irvin received word this week that her son, BT, William E. Irvin, USN, was seriously injured in a car motorcycle accident in Puerto Rico last Sunday. William was on shore leave in Puerto Rico and was touring the island on a Honda when the accident occurred.

He is in a hospital at Ramey Air Force Base with a broken right jaw, broken right thigh, broken arm, collarbone and kneecap. He will be hospitalized for several months. He would be glad to hear from his many friends here, and his address is: William E. Irvin BT3 753-71-23, Ward I, 826th Medical Group, Ramey AFB, Puerto Rico, APO New York 09845.

Ashland News
The Ashland Woman's Club will be given a tour of the Memorial Gardens at Lake Springfield by Miss Sylvan Six on Tuesday, Oct. 10.

Those wishing to attend will meet at the library at 1:30 p.m. In case of rain, the tour will be postponed until Oct. 17th.

Miss Debbie Cowden has returned to her home here, after undergoing a tonsillectomy at St. John's hospital, Springfield.

Clifford English left this week for Munich, Germany, after spending a few days furlough here with his wife and daughter. He is to be stationed in Germany for a year and a half.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ratliff of Belmont, Ia., and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ratliff of Dows, Ia., have returned to their respective homes, after a few days visit at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ratliff.

Miss Ruth Smith, member of the local Church of Christ, who is here on a furlough from the Philippine Islands a few months, is presently on a tour through Nebraska, speaking in behalf of the Philippine Mission Churches of Christ and Davao Bible Seminary.

Robert Thomas, who was called here by the death of his father, George Thomas, has returned to Vietnam.

The Sophists were teachers who came to ancient Athens to give instructions in language and reasoning.

Earlier this week we gave an example of an obligatory falsecard by a defender. Of course, no one twists his arm to make him falsecard but the situation is such that he can't lose and can gain if he falsecards.

The futile falsecard is one which should merely serve to pinpoint a holding and help the defense.

South is in a normal three no-trump contract and is delighted with the spade opening. He can't do any finessing in that suit but he does have it stopped three times.

He is an inveterate falsecarder and wins East's nine with his ace. Then he tries the diamond finesse. It loses and East stops to think.

South waits nervously and is upset when East plays the five of hearts. He is even more upset when his king loses to West's ace and the defense rattles off five heart tricks.

South complains about bad luck and points out to all and sundry that he has to be the unluckiest bridge player in the world. All his finesses lose.

But we must credit South with helping his own downfall.

South should have won the first spade with the queen. When he won with the ace he drew a diagram for East. East knew that his partner didn't hold king, queen and jack. Therefore South's ace play marked him with the king. Hence East looked for greener pastures.

The queen play would not have helped East. It might well have been from king-queen, in which case a spade return would be essential. East might still have shifted to a heart but it would have been a blind stab.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

By STELLA
SUNDAY, OCTOBER 8 — Born today, you have both the personality and the ability to be a person of tremendous authority. That you will be head man (or woman) in your own home should be a foregone conclusion, but your positiveness and singleness of mind should also give you a key position in your career. Capable of making important decisions on short notice, you have the happy faculty of being able to see clearly into the heart of a problem in less time than it takes most people to spot the problem itself.

You have an active mind that is at its healthiest and best when engaged in problem - solving of any degree — and the more difficult the better. Not one to let go until tomorrow what you can accomplish today, you often get several days' work done in the space of just a few hours. You need only take care that you don't become so involved in achieving so much in little time that you begin to neglect your rest and relaxation.

Your position in the home is well secured, both through your natural authority and because of your obvious love and loyalty toward those close to you. Children are especially drawn to you because you know how to meet them on their own terms at the same time that you are able to lift them up to higher things more in keeping with the standards you as an adult live by. To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, October 9
LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Advance yourself professionally or in business through advancing your social position if possible. A good day for using your influence.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — A distinctive performance of your duties can gain you distinctive advancement on the job or in the home. Put forth maximum effort.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Your natural instinct for sifting wheat from chaff should enable you to come upon the truth of the present situation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Today could well be the start of a transformation of self that could create the new you you've been wishing for.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Undertake only that travel which is important to your future — but remember that your future is not all tied up with your career.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 21) — Emphasize your likeness to others rather than your difference from them, and you and they will both be better off.

ARIES (Mar. 22-Apr. 20) — You can avoid discord both within the family and among co-workers if you exert yourself. Let your peaceable nature have full sway.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — Increase your organizing ability and you will increase your earning capacity. This is no time for thinking you've reached your capacity.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — You may have to delay the start of new activities until some other day. Now is the time for seeing to friendships.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Your need for emotional release may lead you to be tempted into excesses of eating, drinking, etc. Have a care!

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — If you don't want to give the impression of a shallow person, don't behave like one. Act according to the dictates of conscience.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) —

Your wishes will not be ignored today if you take your claims, complaints, and so on to the right person. Go to the top.

Legit Poll Of TV Viewers Hits Snag In Jersey

JERSEYVILLE — Thieves in Jersey county who broke into no less than five Jersey county rural homes the past week and stole television sets, have unwittingly handicapped a National Television Research Survey that was being conducted in the area.

When rural area residents and Jerseyville city ones also received telephone calls in the evening inquiring if they were watching television at the time; second if they were watching certain programs or what station they were viewing, and finally the number of television sets in their home, the party interviewed became alarmed and decided some member of a ring of thieves was checking with the objective of later robbing the residence.

A deluge of telephone and personal reports were made to the office of Sheriff Adam Desherlia of Jersey County and to the Jerseyville Police Department.

Sheriff Desherlia investigated, and came up with the information that the calls being made are legitimate and that the representatives of the American Research Bureau of Beltsville, Maryland, are conducting the survey which is on a nation wide basis for the purpose of determining certain facts.

The Research Bureau advised Desherlia that generally only three questions are asked: First — Is anyone in the home viewing television; Second, what station or programs are being viewed and Third, number of television sets in the home.

Mrs. Marie Larman of the American Research Bureau advised Sheriff Desherlia that the survey in the area will not conclude before next March.

Berea Club Wins First In 4-H Window Display

ASHLAND — The Berea Ag 4-H Club has won first place in the Morgan county 4-H window contest, according to Jim Burrus, president of the Morgan County 4-H Federation. The club will receive a plaque, awarded by the 4-H Federation, who sponsors the contest in observance of National 4-H Club Week.

The winning display which features 4-H as the "Key" to opportunity, is located in a window at Kline's Department Store in Jacksonville. Marvin Martin of Ashland and Ward Petefish of Ashland are leaders of the Berea Club.

The Ladies Aid of the Church of Christ met in the church basement, Wednesday afternoon, with 14 members present. Mrs. Edith Caswell and Mrs. Ida Nall were hostesses. The afternoon's program was planned by Mrs. Grace Dalton.

Priests Favor

optional celibacy in the United States. The "no" replies outnumbered the "yes," 209-201.

A third question asked an opinion on whether married priests should be allowed to return to the ministry. The result was: yes 216 no, 185.

The survey was co-sponsored by the National Association for Pastoral Renewal. It included the St. Louis Archdiocese, Kansas City-St. Joseph and Springfield-Cape Girardeau dioceses. The Jefferson City diocese was omitted since a more detailed study is planned there later.

Sponsors of the poll said it indicated there was need for dialogue between older and younger priests, particularly in St. Louis.

Democrats Hear

"Or we can take the harder road of responsibility. We can do what we believe is right for our children's future, though it may mean present pain."

"I have made my choice," Johnson said some assert that he and the Democrats could claim a short-term political gain "by renouncing the struggle in Vietnam, or escalating it to the red line of danger; by giving in on the tax proposal, by abandoning the fight against discrimination—the fight for the poorer—here at home."

In the long run, he argued, such actions would increase the chances of a major war, feed inflation and doom the nation's cities "to angry strife and squalor."

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK in Jacksonville starts today. Mayor Byron Holkenbrink, left, presented the proclamation to Fire Chief Dale Bond and urged citizens to help in the observance by removing or eliminating fire hazards throughout their homes and their places of business.

Fire Prevention—$1.8 Billion Loss Annually By Fire

Last year property valued at $1.8 billion was destroyed by fire in the United States, approximately ten percent under the losses for 1965.

This year (1967) is expected to reach an all-time high for fire loss due to ordinary fire plus the holocaust in riot-torn cities throughout the nation.

Fire Chief Dale Bond of the Jacksonville Fire Department said Saturday, "As fire prevention week arrives, let us all take an oath to do something about this loss of life and property."

Chief Bond was calling attention to Fire Prevention Week in Jacksonville and throughout the country, October 8 through 14. A small amount of prevention on the part of homeowners could be a major factor in reducing the number of fires during the next twelve months.

Rules For Homeowners
Chief Bond gave a long list of check-points for homeowners which would be good advice for businessmen too.

Some of the points covered included: Make sure all paints and other flammable liquids are stored properly in cabinets away from sources of heat so none will be ignited from overheating.

—Check the heating system to make sure it is in proper working order.

—Check all wiring and drop cords and make sure fuses are correct for the size of wire and don't overload the circuits. For advice on this point, consult your power company supplier or a competent electrician.

—Never, never, smoke in bed and be cautious with the use of matches away from children.

CHANDLERVILLE CLASS SPONSORS COOKING SCHOOL

CHANDLERVILLE — A cooking school was conducted by Mrs. Ruby Graves, CIPS Home Service representative from Beardstown, Tuesday afternoon in the Legion Hall with 52 guests in attendance. The Family Living Class of Chandlerville High School and sponsor, Miss M. Rassanum, also attended.

Mrs. Graves discussed many features of the electric range and other appliances, and demonstrated and cooked several tasty dishes which were later given away.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Home Extension members, Mrs. Robert Gregurich and Mrs. Milton Edge.

Chandlerville Notes
Mrs. Floyd Jurgens, Mrs. Ruel Eichenauer, Mrs. Alice Marie Davidmeier, Mrs. J. H. Scott, Mrs. Albert Geiss, Mrs. Frank Dirks, Mrs. John Leinberger and Mrs. Garland Winkelman attended the LWML Fall Rally of the Jacksonville Zone at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Bluffs on Oct. 3.

During the business meeting the report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. Floyd Jurgens, president of the Salem Lutheran Church of Chandlerville. The invitation to host the fall rally in 1968 was given by Mrs. Ruel Eichenauer, who is secretary of the Chandlerville Lutheran Ladies Aid.

Miss Lucy DeGroot of Alexander was a Tuesday visitor of her sister, Mrs. Harrison Glick.

Mrs. Richard Trowbridge and Mrs. Ree Atterberry were Havana callers Wednesday.

Mrs. Warren Siltman is a medical patient at Memorial hospital in Springfield.

Mrs. Nettie Sutton, Mrs. Norma Altig and Mrs. Bee Kendall of Oakford were Tuesday supper guests of Mrs. Euna Lynn.

White Hall Hospital Plans Chicken Supper

WHITE HALL — Mrs. N. G. Fansler, president of the White Hall hospital Auxiliary was in charge of the meeting held at the Hospital on Monday afternoon, at which time final plans were made for the annual chicken pie dinner to be held at the American Legion Home on Nov. 4th, with a bazaar also during the day.

Stanley Thomas, Chairman of the hospital board attended the meeting and discussed plans for the annual fund drive to be held the third week in October, for hospital funds.

Baptist Circle
The regular meeting of the First Baptist Afternoon Missionary Circle was held at the church on Tuesday afternoon with twenty-one attending.

Mrs. Edith Owdom led the group singing of "What Is In Your Hand" to open the meeting and Mrs. Herbert Kresmske sang: "The Touch of His Hand On Mine."

Miss Pearl Bermes, of Greenfield, was guest speaker, her topic being "Encounter of the Faith of Men."

Mrs. Thomas Glossop, president, conducted the business meeting, and the Prayer Call was in charge of Mrs. Lloyd Smith and Mrs. Raymond Wendell. Mrs. Maude Bateman and Mrs. Pearl Hull served refreshments during the social hour.

Past Noble Grand
Mrs. John Barnard and Mrs. Ray Linker were hostesses on Wednesday night to the members of the Past Noble Grand Club of Adams Rebekah Lodge.

Eleven members and two guests, Noble Grand Zella Ward and Vice Grand, Meda Hayes were present.

A potluck supper was enjoyed at 6:30 with Chaplain Ada Brannan giving the Prayer of Grace. Mrs. Mae DeShazier, president conducted the short business meeting which opened with the Lord's Prayer in unison led by Mrs. Brannan, and the pledge of allegiance. A social hour of bunco followed.

CARITAS TO HAVE SACK LUNCHES AT MEETING OCT. 19

Members of the Caritas Rebekah Lodge 625 met Oct. 5th at the IOOF Temple with the Noble Grand Lonnie Kitzelman, presiding. Pro tem officers were Glennis Dickman and Florence Hagan.

Betty Ward of Jacksonville Lodge 13 was reported a patient in Holy Cross hospital and Stella Cox of Caritas was reported ill at her home.

The birthday song was sung in honor of Inez Canasey, Laura O'Neil and Margaret Teyman.

The Oct. 19th meeting will be preceded with a sack lunch. IOOF Lodge 4, Rebekah lodges 13 and 625 will have installation ceremonies at the Temple on Oct. 24th. Practice will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday evening, Oct. 22nd.

The Past Noble Grand club will meet Tuesday evening, Oct. 10th, with Eulalia Harris.

Refreshments of doughnuts and coffee were served in the dining room by members of the refreshments committee, Leone Pearson, Ethel Bourne and Mildred Wilkinson. Ruthe Hoover won the door prize.

2 CARS DAMAGED, DRIVER TICKETED

Two cars were damaged, and a driver ticketed as a result of an accident at the intersection of South Clay and East Beecher about 10:44 p.m. Saturday.

Investigating city police stated that a westbound auto, driven by Thomas J. Garrett of 510 Woodland collided with a southbound unit operated by James W. Slayton of Girard.

Garrett was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

The New Zealand moa, a large bird that looked something like an ostrich, became extinct about the middle of the 1600s.

Card Of Thanks

I would like to thank all who sent cards and flowers, my Doctor, Nurses and Aids and my family for making my stay at Holy Cross more pleasant.

Leslie Waters

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors who so kindly helped in any way at the time of our recent bereavement.

Our deepest thanks also to the personnel of Schmitt Memorial Hospital and Parkway Nursing Home, who were so kind.

The family of Carl Herbert

We wish to thank the Murrayville Fire Dept. and neighbors who helped during our recent fire.

Acclaims Brass Quintet In Concert Here Friday

History will probably record as one characteristic of music in American life the emergence of chamber music, other than that of strings as a significant concert medium. One of these chamber groups is the brass ensemble.

The improvement of the quality of the brass instruments and the development of the players on these instruments as complete virtuosos has caught the ears of the significant composers of our age.

In addition to this, musicologists have also seen the beauties of this ensemble and have turned their attention to discovery of music written in the past for this group.

It remained for the American Brass Quintet to make communities, such as Jacksonville, conscious of this development on the musical scene. And it was accomplished Friday night with great artistry. Individually, each member of the remarkable ensemble demonstrated to the enthusiastic audience a command over his instrument tonally, dynamically and musical taste. Yet there was such rapport existing that the listener was conscious only of the whole ensemble as an artistic unit, made brilliant by the individual performances.

The program was beautifully varied. Traditionally, the music of the 16th and 17th century for brass ensemble is very closely associated with the church. The first section was attendant to this association. Although the contemporary Shagan and fugue by Hovhanness was included here it was within the spirit of a religious expression so deep and personal as to bring one to his knees in the spirit of worship.

It seemed to this writer that each selection built toward the climax achieve so effectively by

Gail Ward weds Roanoke, Virginia man in the east

An early September ceremony in Maryland united in marriage Miss Gail Elizabeth Ward, daughter of the John P. Wards of Jacksonville and Robert James Phipps. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Phipps of Roanoke, Virginia.

The service was at High Noon September second, in Old Post Chapel at Fort Meade, Maryland. The chaplain, Major John W. Kays, Jr., officiated.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of candlelight silk crepe de chine with a Chantilly lace bodice and sweeping Cathedral train. A crown of lace held her veil of illusion and she carried a cascade of white roses.

The bride's roommate and sorority sister, Miss Jill Dolan of Laurel, Maryland, was maid of honor. She wore candy pink lace, full length, with a matching crown headdress. Her flowers were royal pink carnations.

Mrs. Robert Bulthaus of Macomb was bridesmatron; Miss Betsy A. Unangst of Washington, D.C. and Miss Margie Johnson, Laurel, Maryland, were bridesmaids. They were gowned identically to the honor attendant.

Miss Susan Staats of Chicago, assisted by the bride's sister, Beth, registered guests. Alden King, roommate of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were John Ward, Chicago, brother of the bride; Jack Newman, Laurel, Maryland and John Marsh, Alexandria, Virginia, uncle of the bride. Ushers were John Cierczak, Laurel, Maryland and Pat and Tom Ward, Jacksonville, brothers of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a pastel blue silk costume dress with matching accessories. The groom's mother chose an off-white lace dress with a white rose hat. Each wore a corsage of white baby orchids.

A reception was held in the John F. Kennedy Room at the Friendship International Hotel in Baltimore.

The couple flew to Bermuda for their honeymoon and will be residing in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Phipps graduated from Western Illinois University where she affiliated with Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, the National Collegiate Players (honorary) and Kappa Delta Pi (honorary). Mr. Phipps attended Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Syracuse University. Both have been working for the Department of Defense in Washington and now will be attending the American University there, the bride to receive her master's in computer science and operations research and the groom his degree in computer science and business.

Grandparents attending the ceremony and reception were Mrs. Anne B. Moller, Richmond, Virginia; Mrs. Laura Phipps, Roanoke, Virginia and Mrs. John D. Ward of Elmira, New York.

Games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Anne Manes, Mrs. Charles Martin, Mrs. Dwayne Martin and sons, Mrs. Ruth Smay and Mark Martin. She received many lovely gifts. Refreshments were served.

Billy Graham topic before Tuesday club

Members of Tuesday club were entertained October third at the Dunlap Motor Inn where Mrs. Samuel Darley was hostess. A lovely dessert course was served to twenty-three members and several associate members before the program.

Mrs. E. C. Smith presided and called for the secretary's report from Mrs. Dallas Hagan and the treasurer's account from Mrs. Wayne Taylor. Committee reports were heard and plans for the next meeting were made. Guest Day will be held Oct. 17th at the David Smith House on Illinois College campus.

Mrs. Ralph Woods of the program committee presented Mrs. Barnard S. Camm, who read a paper on "The Life of Billy Graham." She gave an interesting and a detailed account of his early life on his father's South Carolina dairy farm, his high school years and being reared in a strict Presbyterian home. His early ambition, the speaker stated, was to be a big League baseball player, not a minister or evangelist.

After a semester at Bob Jones University, then several terms at Florida Bible Institute in Tampa, he started preaching. He later transferred to Wheaton College in Illinois where he earned his degree in 1943 and took his first pastorate at Western Springs, Ill. He married Ruth Bell, daughter of medical missionaries to China. They have three daughters and two sons. The family home is at Montreat, North Carolina. A 'recipe' for establishing or salvaging, a happy home, closed the program.

A social hour followed the program.

Mrs. Atkins gives program before Grace W.S.C.S.

Mrs. John P. Atkins addressed those attending the general meeting Oct. 4th of the Grace Methodist church WSCS.

The program, called to be Sent, was about three girls who became missionaries in foreign countries. There was a lovely worship center detecting the work of the missionaries. Assisting Mrs. Atkins in the program were Mrs. Floy Ekin, Mrs. J. A. Mann and Mrs. Donald Evans.

Mrs. Glenn Hickle was elected the new secretary of spiritual life. Mrs. C. O. Kanatkar announced World Community Day for Friday, Nov. 3rd, to be at Centenary Methodist church.

Mrs. Sam Darley announced the Prayer and Self Denial will be Oct. 4th at the church chapel at 7:30 p.m.

Members of Circle Martha were in charge of the social hour.

Pittsfield girl, Irvin Louis Todd vows at church

Miss Carol Ann Fesler of Pittsfield and Irvin Louis Todd, Jr. of Jacksonville were united in marriage during a nuptial high Mass Saturday morning, September thirtieth, at the Church of Our Saviour.

The Reverend Robert Spriggs was the celebrant of the Mass. Mrs. Alta Eisch was at the organ and Brice Irving of Pittsfield sang. White glads and pompons were used at the church altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Elden Fesler of Pittsfield and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Irvin L. Todd, 410 Gladstone Road.

Mrs. Dan Boyd of Macomb was matron of honor. Mrs. Robert Willard of Broadview, Mississippi was bridesmatron and the Misses Nancy Self, Champaign and Sherrie Todd, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids.

Robert Jenkins was best man. Groomsmen were Richard Sweeney, Larry Smith and John Elliott, Jr.

Ushers were Marvin Fesler, brother of the bride, Bill Clancy, Frank Clancy and Billy Joe Clancy. Altar boys were Steve and Bernard Clancy.

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose a gown of candlelight peau de soie with Chantilly lace motifs at the bodice, sleeves and on the A line skirt which featured a detachable train. A peau crown with lace and pearls held her veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of white feathered poms and stephanotis centering an orchid.

The attendants were gowned alike in olive green and Venise lace crepe with chiffon panels. Tiny veils adorned their matching headpieces and each carried a cascade of gold and yellow pompons.

The mother of the bride wore apricot brocade with matching color accessories. Her flowers were green cymbidium orchids. The mother of the groom was in pink brocade with corresponding accessories and her flowers were white cymbidium orchids.

A reception was held at the Jacksonville Elks Club. The rehearsal dinner served the Friday night before the wedding was hosted by the groom's parents at the Blackhawk.

After a wedding trip to Canada and New England states the couple will reside in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Todd graduated from Pittsfield High School and the Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Springfield. She is a staff nurse at Jacksonville State Hospital. The groom graduated from Routt High School and attended an electrical school in Springfield. He is employed by the Ingram Electrical Company in this city.

CARROLLTON — The Golden Fellowship of the Methodist Church will meet Friday afternoon, Oct. 7th at 2 p.m. at the Methodist church in Carrollton. If a ride is needed, call Mrs. William Stevens or Mrs. Lucille Carter.

KEEP HAIR CONDITIONED

Mini, midi or maxi, whatever length hair style you plan to wear this fall, hair should be in top condition to look its best. At this time of year, hair is often sunburned (split ends) and only special attention can restore natural beauty. Split ends should be trimmed. In addition, be sure to wash your hair in warm water and set your dryer at medium or cool.

Beauty Care Today

By MID

The active life of today's woman can be very hard on her hands.

What are some good rules to follow in hand care? The cardinal rule is constant moisturizing. Just count how many times a day your hands are in water. Each time, the water is robbing your hands of moisture.

Use hand lotions and creams faithfully. Use them at least in the morning and at night. If your hands are really giving you problems, carry a tube of cream with you. Use it after each time your hands are in water. Water takes its toll on your hands, but so does wind and weather. Pamper your hands! Don't be sparing with that lotion.

Suggestion: The cream massage you get with your manicure is very beneficial. Follow the same method at home. WATCH NEXT WEEK FOR FACIAL CARE TIPS.

Minta Way bride of Indiana man at Eureka church

An impressive candlelight ceremony at the Christian church in Eureka, Illinois, Saturday evening, September second, united in marriage Miss Minta Jean Way of Eureka and James A. McCain of Speedway, Indiana.

Dr. Donald Anderson, assisted by the Reverend Glenn Riddell, performed the double ring ceremony at the altar adorned with white and bronze chrysanthemums. Mrs. Royal Humbert presided at the organ for the nuptial prelude and accompanied the soloist, Donald Littlejohn.

The former Miss Way is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Way of Jacksonville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. McCain of Speedway, Indiana.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a slender silhouette gown of light ivory silk organza with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The detachable lace applied court train flowed into a full chapel sweep. Her veil of imported silk illusion was held by a forward organza petal headpiece, accented with lily of the valley. She carried a cascade of white pompons and ivy centering two white orchids.

Miss Marian Hammer, sorority sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore gold chiffon with a petal headpiece and nose tip veil. She carried a cascade of bronze pompons and ivy.

William White of Orea, Illinois, served the groom as best man.

Ushers were John Killam of Jacksonville and Patrick Littlejohn of Eureka.

The mother of the bride wore a light blue suit. Her corsage was of bronze pompons. The groom's mother wore a beige suit with a corsage of white pompons.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church. Miss Adele Dixon, Miss Sue Hasenyaer, Miss Karen Unger, and Miss Betty Langston, all sorority sisters of the bride, serving at the table. Others assisting were Miss Patty Kelley, Miss Susie Megginson, and Miss Rose Marie Turner. Miss GERALD McCain, sister of the groom, registered the guests.

Mrs. McCain graduated with the class of 1967 from Eureka College, where she was a member of Delta Pi Sorority. She is employed with the Peoria County Department of Public Aid. Mr. McCain, a pre law student, is a senior at Eureka College. They will make their home at 403 East James Street in Eureka.

The rehearsal dinner was held at The Field Lodge in Morton, Illinois, the evening prior to the wedding.

Guests were present from Indiana, Ohio, Washington, D.C., Michigan, Texas, and Puerto Rico.

ARTIST DONATES LINCOLN PORTRAIT TO BEARDSTOWN

ASHLAND—Mrs. Paul Falconi of Hamilton, Ohio, the former Jean Conner of Ashland, has painted an original oil portrait of Abraham Lincoln for the Lincoln courtroom in Beardstown City Hall.

Mrs. Falconi used a black and white reproduction of the photograph of Lincoln taken by A. M. Byers on May 7, 1857, the day a Beardstown jury cleared Duff Armstrong of the charge of murder.

The portrait was painted for the courtroom in memory of Mrs. Falconi's grandfather, the late William Harrison Conner of Ashland, who served under President Lincoln during the Civil War.

Mrs. Falconi has exhibited other paintings in Hamilton, Cincinnati, New York, Washington, D.C., and Cooperstown, New York. She is a member of the Cooperstown Art Association and the Palette Club of Hamilton. After a recent exhibition in Cooperstown, Mrs. Falconi received a letter from Les Editions, De La Revue, Paris, France, asking for a biographical review and photos of her work to be published in the art

Beta Sigma Phi Chapters

The first in a series of three $10,000 grants has been made to Hope School in Springfield, Illinois by Beta Sigma Phi, international sorority of 185,000 members throughout the world.

President Walter W. Ross explains in a dispatch from Kansas City, Missouri, international headquarters of Beta Sigma Phi, that two additional grants of $10,000 in 1968 and 1969 will come direct to the school from the Beta Sigma Phi Endowment Fund.

This fund is the result of cooperative effort on the part of Beta Sigma Phi members throughout the entire organization, numbering more than 8,000 chapters in the U.S. and Canada, and several foreign countries.

Jacksonville chapters and their respective presidents, all of which contribute to these projects, include:

Xi Lambda, Esther Ingoglia; Xi Alpha Upsilon, Marian May; Xi Gamma Tau, Doris Reed; Xi Epsilon Xi, Marilyn Murphy.

Gamma, Lois Wells; Omega, Norma Nell; Zeta Beta, Sue Moss; Kappa Omega, Judy Reveal and Mu Eta, Betty Means.

Fourteen members of Xi Lambda chapter met for dinner Oct. 2nd at the Beef and Bird.

Guests attending were Mrs. Alice Birdsell, Mrs. Neta Briggs and Mrs. Maureen Brennan.

The president, Mrs. Esther Ingoglia, conducted the business session and welcomed the guests, and the chapter's social sponsor, Lecie Crawford, who has been vacationing in California and Mabel Symmons, member at large who has returned to Jacksonville while her husband is serving with the military in Vietnam.

Mae Tomlin reported on the City county meeting.

A communication was read from International Headquarters in Kansas City on civil defense and the discussion was continued by the state civil defense employee, Ruth White, a member of the chapter.

Alvahlee McCarthy also spoke on this matter. Alice Birdsell showed slides taken during her recent trip to North Africa.

The chapter will meet Oct. 16th with Lecie Crawford, 871 West College avenue with members of the social committee co-hostesses.

Gloria Ann Haley, James H. Stocker vows at Brooklyn

Miss Gloria Ann Haley and James Herman Stocker were united in marriage Sunday afternoon, October first, at Brooklyn Methodist church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Georgia I. Haley, 1711 Nita Lane and the late Reverend G. W. Haley. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stocker, 222 West Pennsylvania avenue. Mrs. Haley gave her daughter in marriage during the ceremony performed by the Reverend William J. Kenney. The bride was accompanied to the altar by Claude Curry.

White gladioli and yellow mums were used in decorating the church. Miss Bonnie Everett was at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Miss Sandy Doll.

Mrs. Daniel Pittenger of Homestead, Florida, former roommate of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Susan Herr of Jacksonville was bridesmaid and Mrs. Max Brockhouse of Chapin was bridesmatron.

Jerry Stocker attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were David Hall of Murrayville and Billy Ferd Fitzman, Pana, cousin of the groom. Ushers were Tom Chumley and Clayton Stephenson.

The bride wore an Alfred original wedding gown of brocade over pallon fashioned with a detachable train. A pleated taffeta and lace head-dress, studded with pearls, held her veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of yellow roses and stephanotis.

The bride's attendants were gowned alike in floor length brocade and crepe in two tones of gold. Satin bands were used at the backs of the squared necklines and the same type bands formed headdresses which held their gold maline veils. Each carried a colonial bouquet of bronze cluster mums and white carnations.

Little Terry Wooldrige was flower girl and Jim Smith was the ring bearer.

The mother of the bride wore a pink metallic brocade with silver accessories. Her flowers were pink roses. The groom's mother was in turquoise lace with matching coat. She wore beige accessories. Her flowers were bronze mums.

At the reception held at the church Miss Janet Redmon of Plainville; Miss Jamie Morrison of Arenzville; Miss Jane Hopkins, Jacksonville and Mrs. Alvin Werries of Mercedosa, assisted.

The couple is residing at 911 South Diamond street.

Mrs. Stocker graduated in 1962 from Payson High School, attended Western Illinois University and later graduated from Passavant hospital School of Nursing. She is a staff nurse at PMAH.

Mr. Stocker graduated from Jacksonville High School in 1961 and served four years in the U.S. Air Force. He is employed at South Jacksonville market. Among the special guests were Mrs. John A. Brown, grandmother of the bride, and Mr. Brown of Chicago.

They were Miss Shirley Siegle, Mrs. Russell Summers and Mrs. Lawrence Hembrough.

Travel Talk

by Thelma Bacon

Perhaps you are a far-sighted individual who has saved money for a fabulous European vacation. If not, there are several go now—pay later plans.

For instance, a vacation loan from your bank may be obtainable. Many transportation companies also arrange travel loans. Vacation expenses can be charged on some credit cards.

Estimate how much money you will need abroad and convert it into traveler's checks, for safety. A few American dollars will be handy because they are usually acceptable. Convert some money to coins of the first country you will visit.

This change will be convenient for tips which should be 25c per bag to bellboys and porters. Cab drivers get 15% of the meter, or not less than 15c. Restaurant tips equal 15% of the check.

If tipping bothers you, package tours include it in their charge. WATCH NEXT WEEK FOR "TAKE THE CHILDREN ALONG."

THRIFT TRAVEL SERVICE will be happy to assist you in planning your trip. We can offer you many wonderful tours, too. Whatever your travel needs — you can count on us for complete service. ### LITTLE ACTION ADDED TO SERIES

What has already been an exciting World Series was livened up considerably in the first inning of Saturday's game, in action most television viewers missed.

With no clear-cut star of the game, the mob of baseball writers on the scene pursued the first-inning incident in which Cardinal hurler Nelson Briles quickly plunked Red Sox star Carl Yastrzemski in the leg with a fast ball, and the scribes got quick results.

The Red Sox were quietly boiling mad at the Cardinals, or so they said, and didn't mind saying so. Over in the Cardinals clubhouse everyone denied any guilt.

"HE THREW at Yaz deliberately," Boston manager Dick Williams said, after his club absorbed a 5-2 defeat. When asked the same question again by another writer, Williams shot back, "I don't think he threw at him — I know. There's such a thing as a brushback pitch and a knockdown pitch. You don't throw behind a batter if you're not trying to hit him."

When the incident happened, with two out in the Red Sox first, Williams rushed up to plate umpire Frank Umont. "I told Frank if that's the way he wanted the game played, we could retaliate," Williams said.

NOT TO be outdone, Cardinal manager Red Schoendienst rushed to the discussion and put in several cents worth. "All I had been reading about was that Jim Lonborg threw at Lou Brock on the first pitch in the second game," fired back Red when quizzed by writers in the clubhouse.

"We never throw at anyone," said the slightly angry Redhead. "We don't need to throw at anyone, we were just interested in getting the man out. At least we didn't go popping off to the papers about throwing at anyone."

Briles' version went, "I was trying first of all to get the ball in on him. But I held the ball too tight and it just got away from me. I also got a pitch in on Reggie Smith. It took a little while until I could relax and get the ball over."

Notes by a writer covering his first World Series game:

The atmosphere is the most notable difference between regular season games. The atmosphere is all one reads about, from the celebrities roaming around the crowd and the press box, to the World Series trim displayed everywhere, from a mile out from the stadium, to the policemen's hats (they wore bright Redbirds).

THE PRESS covering the Series is unbelievable. The closest count we got was that there were over 600 writers at the game, and that is not counting radio and television personnel. If you think that isn't a mess, you should try to get an interview with a player when there are 50 writers to each player. Due to wet grounds the teams did not take batting or infield practice, and most stayed in the seclusion of their clubhouse before the game, probably to avoid the endless round of repeated questions from the eager press.

ALSO WITH the press angle, interviews with key performers from each team were held in rather small rooms, into which rushed well over 100 writers and photographers. Tempers flared several times when cameras and talking writers drowned out questions and answers by the players. One thing for sure, you won't read any different quotes by the players in different newspapers, everyone had to take the same thing.

Along with the Series dressing, programs were hiked to $1, although they included much more than the ordinary program which sells for $5.00; Guy Lombardo's band played for some time on the field before the game and several Dixieland bands roamed around outside the stadium.

WHAT'S THE first thing the players did after the game? They grabbed a chair in the clubhouse, sipped a beer (you know which brand) and watched the replays on television. The Alabama-Mississippi football game also had a big audience. Players usually stay around the clubhouse for well over an hour, to unwind and wait for the traffic to clear.

Whether or not the baseball played is any better or more exciting in the Series than during the regular season is questionable. But the over-flow crowds and the excitement created and generated by them adds so much to the feeling, and we're sure this is carried over to the players. Players were continually looking into the stands, especially during one of the several scuffles between fans and ushers or policemen.

Routt Stays Unbeaten, Knocks Off Tigers, 19-7

THORN FOR BLUEBOYS — Skatback Alex Smith (24) of Principia punched holes in Illinois College's defense several times Saturday afternoon. Above Smith goes for three yards to his own 45 yard line in the fourth period after being hauled down by Illinois College's Mike Templin. Also pictured for IC is John Dooley (82) of Springfield, John Frazer (74) of Chicago and John Levins (63) of Jacksonville.

Second Half Scores Nip Blueboys

By REG ANKROM

Principia broke a 0-0 halftime deadlock with a pair of second half touchdowns and went on to hand Illinois College a 13-0 Prairie College Conference setback, on the IC field Saturday afternoon.

Alex Smith took an overhand flip from quarterback Buz Brewster to open scoring in favor of Principia in the third quarter. Another six points in the final 15 minutes settled the issue.

Bill Stitt started the Principia drive, returning a Blueboy punt 36 yards to midfield. Both teams had previously failed to get any sustained drives going. But the Indians made their deepest penetration into IC territory, stemming from a 24-yard pass play from Brewster to Fred Park.

A fine Principia offensive line opened holes for Smith who managed to bring his team to during the fourth quarter when key runs at midfield put Principia on IC's one yard line. The scoring lunge by Stitt iced the game for the Indians with about five minutes remaining in the game.

Principia made their first score on a hard-fought drive that was beset with penalties.

The Indians were charged with clipping. Principia coach James Crafton didn't like the call and stormed along the sidelines. His team was set back another 15 yards for his unsportsmanlike conduct. Crafton was moved once more by what he obviously considered a bad call.

His conference with a field judge cost Principia another 15 yards, again on unsportsmanlike conduct. Illinois took the ball but was unable to move it to any advantage. Their punt went to Stitt.

Good Ball Control — Good ball control aided the Indians in their second touchdown. They held onto the ball in the fourth quarter for about 12 minutes. Their scoring effort began on their five-yard line.

A penalty against IC gave the Indians extra life. They were stalled with fourth down situation but offensive holding moved them 15-yards upfield. Good runs by Stitt and Smith through a weak Illinois defensive line, trotted the Indians upfield with fairs of five first downs. Stitt took a handoff from Brewster on the one yard line for the scoring play. The extra point attempt by Park was wide.

Despite the loss, Illinois wasn't without its encouraging moments. Bill Templin picked off a Principia fumble in the first quarter. Illinois quarterback Dave Barr, regaining possession, threw a nice spiral that went 20 yards to be picked up by Blueboy halfback Phil Snowden.

IC's Tom Rowland, who last week intercepted three Rose Poly passes, made another in the first quarter. Bill Orendorff, who showed good ability in the punting department, booted one the IC ten-yard line, putting them in position for their first score. Brewster, who filled Principia's quarterback slot throughout the game, called for Smith to take a pass over the Blueboy line. Smith grabbed the ball, unaccosted, and went into the end zone upright. Park booted the extra point.

Principia's second score came punt for 60 yards and stopped that Indian drive later, recovering a fumble from Indian Neal David. IC guard John Levins was successful a number of times in getting behind Principia's line to drop them for losses.

With three seconds remaining in the first half, Oscar Young replaced quarterback Danny Brooks. Young threw a spiraling 60-yard pass that looked good, but missed its receiver by a matter of inches.

Outclassed On Ground — Principia outclassed Illinois College on the ground. The Indians picked up 326 yards rushing and 113 yards in the air. The Blueboys ran up 202 yards on the ground and 39 yards in passing. Principia completed seven of ten aerial attempts while IC managed two of eight.

Principia led IC in the fumble department also with four lost fumbles. IC lost one. Thanks to good yardage by Smith and Stitt, the Indians picked up a total of four first downs in the first half and ten in the second. IC picked up two first downs in the first half and three in the second.

Illinois College lost 50 yards to penalties while Principia lost 75. Principia punted three times during the game, one which was dropped and recovered by IC, and gained a total of 109 yards on two successful punts. Illinois College punted seven times for 295 yards.

Good Game On Ground Key To Win

By BUFORD GREEN
Sports Editor

Paul Lambert and Danny Welsh each ran for better than 100 yards on the ground as Routt took the upper hand in the PMSC Conference with an impressive 19-7 victory over cross-town rival ISD, in a battle of unbeaten teams on the JHS field Saturday evening.

The rugged Routt defense bottled up all but one ISD scoring chance, and picked off two key interceptions, one returned 70 yards by Loyd Krumlauf for the first score of the game. The game was played in intermittent heavy rains.

The victory gives Routt a 4-0 slate and a 2-0 conference mark, with only Triopia seemingly standing in the way of the Rockets' first PMSC Conference title and possibly Routt's first ever undefeated 11-man football squad.

Workhorses Lambert and Welsh keyed a strong Routt ground game that ran up 263 yards rushing. Lambert busted the ISD line for 112 yards in 22 carries, one a 12-yard scoring jaunt that iced the victory in the final minutes, and Welsh carried 19 times for 101 yards.

ISD, beset with offensive troubles inside Routt territory, got good yardage out of halfbacks Ron Penn and Jesse Joyner. Penn raced 83 yards in nine tries and Joyner legged the ball 15 times for 74 yards, including the Tigers' only touchdown of the evening.

ISD missed one scoring opportunity in the opening 12 minutes when Frank Bazos picked off a Krumlauf pass at the Routt 24. Three running plays moved the ball to the 16 before a fourth down pass fell short.

Routt mounted a march near the end of the first quarter, moving from its own 12 to the ISD 40 before Curtis Williams threw Krumlauf for a six-yard loss on a crucial third down situation. A partially blocked one-yard punt set ISD up at the Routt 35.

Scoring Ice Broken — Two plays later Krumlauf intercepted Joyner halfback pass at the Routt 30 and outraced everyone to go untouched on the 70-yard scoring jaunt. Lambert fumbled the carry for the PAT but guard Lanny Kindred caught the ball in the end zone for a 7-0 count with 10:04 to play in the half.

A fumbled punt by Danny Craddock gave ISD another shot later in the quarter, as the Tigers used the play to sustain a drive that moved from the ISD 15 to the Routt 12, with Mike Wiczarowski, Joyner and Penn doing the leg work. There Craddock made up for the fumble with another Routt interception that gave the Rockets the ball on their own 39 after a clipping walkoff nullified Craddock's runback to the ISD seven.

Routt moved to the ISD 29, with the big play a 13-yard Krumlauf pass to end John Costa, before two more passes fell incomplete just before halftime.

Rockets On March — Routt capped an 85-yard scoring drive that took 12 plays when Krumlauf busted over right guard for a one-yard sneak than ran the score to 13-0 with 8:47 to play. Lambert was the workhouse in the scoring march, getting help from Welsh and Krumlauf.

ISD quickly retaliated with its only touchdown of the evening, getting a break after a roughing the passer penalty nullified another pass threat by Krumlauf. The call gave ISD a first down at the Routt 44 and it took only six more plays for a Tiger TD. Penn set up the six points with a 31-yard effort that put the ball on the two, where Joyner busted over left guard for the score. Joyner also legged the PAT for a 13-7 game with 5:58 left to play.

Not to be rattled, Routt came back to march in for the clinching TD. An onside kick that failed gave the Rockets possession at their own 42. Welsh and Lambert took turns chewing yardage on the next nine plays, with Lambert getting the touchdown on a 12-yard off-tackle slant with only 1:44 left.

Brock And Shannon Are Hitting Stars

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Nelson Briles, Mike Shannon and Lou Brock combined to lead St. Louis to a 5-2 victory over Boston Saturday in the third game of the World Series, enlivened by a knockdown rhubarb involving Red Sox star Carl Yastrzemski.

The triumph enabled the Cards to take a 2-1 lead in games in the best-of-seven classic.

Briles, making his Series debut, pitched a seven-hitter. Shannon walloped a two-run homer and Brock scored two runs after collecting a triple and a single.

The dispute was touched off when Yastrzemski was hit on the left calf by Briles' pitch in the first inning. Manager Dick Williams of the Red Sox claimed Briles hit the American League's triple crown winner deliberately.

A brief argument at home plate in which Red Schoendienst, St. Louis manager, referred to printed remarks in Boston newspapers that Jim Lonborg brushed back Card hitters Thursday, plate umpire Frank Umont of the American League told the managers, "I'll handle the situation."

Yaz, whose two homers helped Lonborg win the second game, was held hitless by Briles, who put the Cards into the lead before a record St. Louis crowd of 54,575 at Busch Stadium.

Yaz No Trouble — Briles handled Yastrzemski three times with men on base after hitting him in the first inning. In the fourth, Yaz rapped into a double play. In both the sixth and eighth innings Yaz bounced out to second base.

The Cards jumped away to an early lead against loser Gary Bell as Briles, a 24-year-old Santa Clara product in his fourth year as a pro, backed up his 14-5 regular season record with a steady performance.

Briles finished up the season with nine straight wins after taking Gibson's spot in the starting rotation after the July 15 accident. The handsome dark-haired youngster coddled the early lead and pitched his way out of minor threats in six of the last seven innings.

Six of the seven Red Sox hits were singles and the only extra baser was Reggie Smith's 360-foot home run leading off the seventh.

Cards Score Quickly — Lou Brock's opening triple and Curt Flood's single gave the Cards their first run off the 30-year-old Bell in the first inning. Tim McCarver, hitless in the first two games, started the second inning with a single and rode home free on Shannon's 360-foot home run blast into the left field stands.

After the Red Sox broke through for their first run in the sixth on Mike Andrews' pinch single, Jose Tartabull's sacrifice and Dalton Jones' single, the Cards came right back in their half of the inning.

Brock, the Cards' speedy bullet, beat out a perfectly placed bunt for his second base hit and sixth of the Series. When Lee Stange, third Red Sox pitcher, threw wildly past first base on Brock, Lou went all the way to third base. Roger Maris singled to right on a 3-2 pitch, driving in Brock.

Match Tallies — Smith's homer narrowed the gap to 4-2 in the seventh but St. Louis struck again in the eighth against Dan Osniski, fourth and last Boston pitcher.

Maris beat out a single on a checked swing as the ball rolled between first and second. Orlando Cepeda, hitless in his first 10 Series at bats after a fine regular season, broke out of his slump with a double off the wall in right center, scoring Maris. The victory tipped the scales heavily in favor of the Cardinals, who went into this third game as 2-1 favorites to win it all. They play the next two at home Sunday and Monday and could wrap it up without returning to Boston.

Bob Gibson, who struck out 10 Red Sox while winning Wednesday's opener, 2-1, was scheduled to work for St. Louis Sunday against Jose Santiago, the Puerto Rican who lost to him at Fenway Park.

Softball Meet Set At YMCA

A meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 17, at 8:00 p.m. at the YMCA for softball team representatives who might be interested in playing in local softball (fastpitch and/or slo-pitch) leagues next summer. The new Sherwood Eddy Memorial YMCA will have two beautiful softball fields and will also have a baseball field which can be converted to softball, and wants to plan well in advance for league use. This will not be a commitment time for league entry, but it will be used to check on interest and to reserve playing nights for various leagues.

Soph Gonso Sparks 20-7 Indiana Upset

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Unbeaten Indiana quickly exploited two Illinois errors and was steered by brilliant sophomore Harry Gonso to a 20-7 victory in the Big Ten football opener for both clubs Saturday.

The Hoosiers became the first Indiana team since 1928 to win its first three games. The victory came on a lucky touchdown on the fourth play of the game and another score on a daring gamble.

The two first half touchdowns were enough to stave off Illinois which lost its first two quarterbacks early in the first half but Terry Miller blocked a Hoosier quick kick from its own three. Larry Jordan fell on the ball in the end zone for the Illinois touchdown.

The game was only 86 seconds old when Indiana struck for its first touchdown as Indiana's John Isenbarger fumbled driving for the goal line and 225-pound Hoosier tackle Rick Sticker fell on the ball in the end zone for a touchdown.

That lucky recovery came only two plays after Indiana's Clarence Price grabbed an Illinois fumble on the Illinois 27. Gonso rifled a 20-yard pass to Ben Norman and the Indiana touchdown came on the next play.

The Illini, who moved the ball spasmodically and never when it counted, lost a fourth down gamble late in the second period and Indiana seized the opportunity to score on Gonso's three-yard pass to Jade Butcher 17 seconds before the half ended.

Big play in the 62-yard drive was Gonso's 13-yard run on fourth-down-and-one, carrying it to the Illini 12.

Principia Cops Tennis Titles Here Saturday

Principia swept the team title and both individual crowns in the NAIA District 20 tennis tournament, held Saturday on the MacMurray courts.

Final team scores were Principia 15, MacMurray eight, Quincy five, Western Illinois five and Greenville and Illinois College three each.

The best finish by local netters came when MacMurray's doubles team of Barr Jozwicki and Bob Christensen finished second to Principia, losing in the finals 6-3, 6-1.

In singles action John Hribar of MacMurray lost a 10-7 match to Chris Shays of Greenville; Ross Anderson of Mac defeated John Maloney of Quincy, 10-8, before losing 10-5 to Pete Clark of Illinois College. Clark lost to eventual champ Tug Miller of Principia, a nationally ranked player.

MacMurray 3rd In Wheaton Meet

WHEATON — MacMurray College finished a distant third to North Central and Wheaton in the Wheaton Invitational cross country meet, here Saturday morning.

North Central nosed out Wheaton, 40-43, followed by MacMurray with 110, Carrollton 123, University of Illinois, Chicago 125, Culver - Stockton 134, Lewis 163 and Elmhurst 193.

Phil Cunningham, of Lewis won the meet, covering the four-mile course in 21:10.9, followed by Bob Grey and Gary Barrett of North Central.

MacMurray finishers were Jim Samuel, tenth; Richard Firebaugh, 17th; Dennis Mueller, 19th; Vince Prieto, 21st; and Jim Weber, 41st.

The Hoosiers got an insurance touchdown late in the final quarter when Ken Kaczmarek intercepted a toss by Dean Volkman, No. 3 Illini quarterback, and raced 26 yards into the end zone.

The Illini, making their Big Ten debut under new Coach Jim Valek, suffered a double blow when starting quarterback Bob Naponic and his top replacement, sophomore Bob Bess, were injured within a few minutes during the second quarter.

Naponic, his right knee banged, and Bess, with a head injury, never returned to the game and Volkman mustered only two sustained drives the rest of the way.

Earlham Tips Clan Soccer Squad By 4-1

Inside left Bob Biddle scored four times to power a strong Earlham outfit to a 4-1 MIICS Conference victory over MacMurray, on the Highlanders' field Saturday afternoon.

Biddle scored at 4:00 of the first, 2:02 and 9:15 of the third and 3:03 of the fourth, on a head ball, as Earlham scored its second victory without a loss, both wins coming in conference play.

The lone Highlander tally came in the second period to knot the count at 1-1, with German exchange student Werner Quies scoring on a penalty kick at the 14:25 mark.

Earlham also dominated the statistics, getting off 35 shots on goal to 18 by the losers. Mac goalie Ted Dilday had 15 saves, to seven by Earlham's Harold Wright.

MacMurray is now 2-2 overall and 1-2 in the conference.

Better Offense Gives Staunton Jerseyville Game

STAUNTON — A two-yard plunge and two extra point runs by Kleeman, and a six-yard run by Kinnikan gave the Staunton Bulldogs a 14-7 win over the Jerseyville Panthers, here Saturday night.

Both teams were held scoreless in the first quarter. A 25-yard pass from Phil Goss to Dave Strubbe put Jerseyville on the scoreboard first. Bill Braden kicked for the extra point.

Staunton scored Kinnikan in the third quarter and Kleeman in the fourth. Kleeman ran both successful extra points.

Both teams managed 10 first downs. Staunton led in ground yardage with 161. Jerseyville had 138. Completing two of seven passes, the Bulldogs gained only six yards on aerial attempts. The Panthers, on four of 14 attempts, picked up 84 yards in the air.

IBSSS Finishes Unbeaten Season

Fred Jenkins provided 18 points and the Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School track team swept a triangular meet to finish the regular season undefeated, on the local track Saturday morning.

Illinois piled up 46 points, followed by Indiana with 37 and Missouri with 14. IBSSS finished the regular season with a perfect 4-0 slate.

Jenkins took first in the shot, three consecutive jumps and the standing broad jump and a second in the 75 yard dash.

Teammate Tom Cravens aided the winning cause with 15 points, winning the 50 and 75 dashes, taking a second in the three consecutive jumps and a third in the basketball throw.

Steve Brewster added nine points with a blue ribbon performance in the high jump, and thirds in the hop, step and jump and standing broad jump.

Rick Parrish gained a point for a fourth in the 50 Eldon Cox and Bill Zimmerman took second in the tandem event for three more points.

Spartans Crush Wisconsin, 35-7

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State, bouncing back from two straight nonconference losses, cashed in on the speed of Dwight Lee and Lamar Thomas Saturday as it overpowered Wisconsin 35-7 in a Big Ten football opener for both teams.

MSU, bidding for its third straight conference title, stuck mainly to the ground as it ripped the Wisconsin line time and again.

State's first three touchdowns came on long drives of 63, 89 and 80 yards before Thomas tossed a surprise 44-yard pass to Al Brenner for State's fourth touchdown. Frank Waters capped a 61-yard substitute loaded scoring drive as he dove over from the two in the final seconds for state's fifth touchdown.

Lee went over for the first two scores while Thomas picked up MSU's third touchdown. Wisconsin, which dropped its third straight game, got on the scoreboard late in the second period to make it 14-7 as quarterback John Ryan capped a 55-yard march by sneaking it over from the six.

CEPEDA FILES SUIT AGAINST MEAT FIRM

ST. LOUIS (AP) — First baseman Orlando Cepeda of the St. Louis Cardinals filed a $55,000 suit Friday against a meat packing firm for unauthorized use of his name in advertising.

The defendant is the St. Louis Independent Packing Co., a division of Swift & Co.

Cepeda said his name was used extensively in radio, television and billboard advertising despite protests by his attorney. The suit asked $25,000 punitive damages and $30,000 as an estimate of the minimum value of Cepeda's name.

Jets Break Up Oakland String With 27-14 Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Emerson Boozer rambled for two touchdowns and a tenacious defense picked off four Oakland passes Saturday night, triggering the New York Jets to a 27-14 victory that ended the Raiders' American Football League unbeaten string at three games.

Boozer, the AFL's top point maker, scored his seventh and eighth TDs of the season as the Eastern Division leaders swept to their third victory in four starts.

Linebacker Larry Grantham set up 10 first half points for the Jets with a pair of pass thefts while John Sample and Billy Baird also came up with interceptions to stall Oakland drives before a Shea Stadium crowd of 63,106.

Beloit Victory Over Knox, 25-14's Hard Fought

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP) — Beloit College scored a 25-14 football victory over Knox College Saturday, but had to fight all the way to preserve its superiority.

Beloit opened the scoring when halfback Kim Burch ran a punt back 76 yards. Knox bounced back in the fourth quarter with two touchdowns, the final tally coming with 15 seconds on the clock.

Knox amassed 190 yards in the air, with end Jim Hallock grabbing six passes for a total of 53 yards.

MacArthur Frosh Down Jacks 12-6

A 55-yard scoring pass with only one second to play lifted the MacArthur freshmen to a 12-6 victory over the Jacksonville frosh, on the JHS field Saturday morning.

The two clubs battled through two and a half quarters before MacArthur scored on a 45-yard aerial in the third. Jacksonville came back to tie with Rick Andrews plunging one yard.

Defensive standouts for the losers included Ted Wise, Steve West, Bruce Selway, Steve Fitzsimmons and Dave McCullum.

Jacksonville is now 1-3 for the season.

the game leading the AFL in every defensive department, were able to contain quarterback Joe Namath, who rattled Miami for 415 air yards last week.

Namath hit on only nine of 28 passes for 166 yards and failed to deliver a TD pass for the first time this season. But Boozer took up the slack, running through and around the Raider defenders for 98 yards on 18 carries—including his two seven-yard scoring bursts.

Midway in the first quarter, Boozer cut off left tackle and dragged Ben Davidson, the Raiders' 280-pound defensive end, into the end zone to cap a 49-yard march and send the Jets ahead to stay.

Grantham, who had only one interception last season, picked off his first pass early in the second period and ran 20 yards to the Raiders' 16. Boozer swept right end for nine yards and three plays later, Bill Mathis went in from the one.

With four and a half minutes remaining in the period Grantham swiped another Darley Lamonica pass and the Jets went on to score again on the first of Jim Turner's two field goals for a 17-0 halftime lead.

After Turner's second three pointer, early in the third period, Lamonica put the Raiders on the scoreboard with a 14-yard strike to Bill Miller. Lamonica later connected with Warren Wells on a 24-yard TD pass after Boozer's second TD completed the Jets' scoring.

Culver Stockton Takes Grid Loss

LISLE, Ill. (AP) — Senior halfback Richard Zak lead St. Procopius College to a 25-13 Saturday afternoon victory over Culver Stockton.

Zak, who has scored 10 touchdowns in four games, scampered for scoring runs of 58, 10, and 74 yards. His first touchdown was a crucial third quarter score for St. Procopius, his final tally clinched the game.

With St. Procopius holding a thin 7-6 margin late in third quarter he burst off tackle for his 58 yard dash.

His afternoon's work accounted for 126 of the 214 yards that the Lisle College gained on the ground.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (NEA) — In the 93 runnings of the Kentucky Derby, there has been only one claim of foul against the winner.

In 1959, jockey Bill Boland, up on Sword Dancer, claimed foul against Willie Shoemaker and Tomy Lee, but it was disallowed.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame, knocked from first to sixth in the national football rankings, unleashed its fury to bury the Iowa Hawkeyes 56-6 Saturday behind the passing of Terry Hanratty and the running of Bob Blier and Dan Harshman.

The game had turned into a rout by halftime with the Irish beaten by Purdue last week, hammering a 35-0 lead.

In this time, Hanratty hit on nine of 10 passes for 81 yards including a 22-yard touchdown flip to Blier.

The Irish strung scoring drives of 42, 61, 48 and 36 yards in a total of 22 plays for 8.5 average and Hanratty had a streak of five completions in five tries for 61 yards.

Safety Tom Schoen was a defensive demon, running back an Ed Podolak pass interception 34 yards for a touchdown during a 21-point second period spurge and returning a quick kick 21 yards to set up another touchdown in the first.

The first half scoring threats were capped by Hanratty on a 2-yard keeper, sophomore Jeff Zimmerman on a 2-yard smash and a 14-yard run and Blier's pass catch. Joe Azzarro booted all the extra points.

The Hawkeyes didn't have much else to show until scoring early in the third on a 59-yard march. Silas McKinnie barreled over from the 3-yard line.

Browns Rip Pittsburgh By 21-10

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Ryan, apparently recovered from assorted injuries, fired the touchdown passes and Cleveland's ground game shredded Pittsburgh's league leading rushing defense Saturday night for a 21-10 National Football league victory before 82,949.

The Browns' quarterback shaking off two sprained ankles along with shoulder and finger injuries, threw a 15-yard touchdown to Paul Warfield in the second quarter and added two more in the third.

Ryan connected on a 49-yard TD toss to Ralph Smith and a 15-yarder to Ernie Green that gave Cleveland a 21-10 lead.

Mike Clark booted a 43-yard field goal for the Steelers for a 3-0 first quarter lead, and rookie quarterback Kent Nix, starting his second league game, threw an eight yard touchdown to Dick Hoak in the third.

The Steelers' line had the best rushing defensive average in the NFL going into the game—70 yards and a 2.5-yard average per try. But Leroy Kelly and Ernie Green consistently made good gainers up the middle and on sweeps.

The Browns gained 178 yards rushing.

Ryan's touchdown to Warfield gave the Browns a 7-3 halftime lead, and they made it 14-3 on the pass to Smith, climaxing a 77-yard drive in five plays. Smith and Warfield crossed in the secondary and two defenders went for Warfield, leaving Smith untouched down the sidelines.

The pass to Hoak closed it to 14-10, but the Browns came right back on a 79-yard drive, with Green taking a swing pass and bowling over two defenders at the goal line.

The Browns stopped three fourth-quarter drives with interceptions, two by Ross Fichtner and one by Erich Barnes.

Pittsburgh 3 0 7 0-10
Cleveland 0 7 14 0-21

Headen Scores 3 In 26-13 Margin

Randy Headen scored three times to lead the Jacksonville sophomores to a 26-13 victory over the Springfield Southeast sophs, on the JHS field Saturday morning.

Headen raced 64-yards off tackle for a score on the first scrimmage play of the game. Southeast came back to score twice in the period and lead 13-6 after 12 minutes. After that the Jacksonville defense settled down and turned in three shut-out quarters.

Steve Waltrip hit Terry Thady with a 40-yard scoring pass in the second period, with Mark Penza booting the point after. Headen added two more scores in the third stanza, on a 12-yard pass from Waltrip and on an eight-yard carry. Headen managed 198 yards rushing for the day. Penza booted one more point after.

The defense was led by Roger and Larry Stewart, James Parrott, Thady, Dick Samples and Lyndell Arnold.

Both teams are now 2-2 for the season.

Winchester Edges Greenfield, 14-7

GREENFIELD — A pair of second-quarter touchdowns, with Don Campbell having a hand in both, lifted Winchester to an important 14-7 Illinois Valley Conference victory over previously unbeaten Greenfield, here Friday evening.

Greenfield jumped to a 7-0 lead in the opening 12 minutes when Dan Bowman capped a 70-yard drive with a four-yard quarterback sneak and Rich

Schafer booted the extra point. Winchester roared back in the second, after getting to the Greenfield 20 and stalling in the first period. Campbell and speedster Morgan Sensel combined on a 32-yard scoring effort for the first score. Near the end of the half Campbell ended a 40-yard march with a one-yard sneak. Greenfield got to the 20 of the eventual winners and did not score.

In the scoreless second half Greenfield got to the Winchester 16 in the third quarter and to the Wildcats' seven with two minutes to play. Winchester moved to the 33 of Greenfield in the third.

On the statistics' side Greenfield led in first downs eight to four, and in rushing yards 174-113. Winchester managed 52 aerial yards to 23 by Greenfield.

Winchester is now 3-1 overall and 2-0 in the IVC, while Greenfield drops to 2-1 and 0-1.

Dawson-To-Ham Combo Leads 12-0 Meredosia Win

MEREDOSIA — Bruce Dawson hurled a pair of touchdown passes to Gary Ham to account for all the scoring as Meredosia notched its third victory in four starts with a 12-0 shutout over Central of Camp Point.

Dawson found Ham on a 20-yard effort in the opening quarter, after Gary Staake set up the score with a long scamper.

Meredosia got to the four in the second but failed to score.

The same combination clicked again in the final period, this time on a 30-yard aerial. Harvey Fuelling's 20-yard run set up the score.

Dawson accounted for most of Meredosia's offense with 12 of 21 for 163 passing yards. The winners managed 45 on the ground. Central hit seven of 16 passes for 88 yards and picked up 47 rushing. Meredosia led in first downs with 14 to Central's 11.

John Caldwell again sparked the tight Meredosia defense, as the senior middle linebacker was credited with 14 unassisted tackles.

Central is now 0-3 in its first season of varsity football.

Anderson, 'Cats Rip Kincaid 28-6 In MSM Activity

KINCAID — Northwestern's Larry Anderson rolled his team to a 28-6 victory over the Kincaid Ponies Friday in the MSM conference.

Northwestern scored 21 points on Kincaid in the second quarter, led off by a five-yard charge by Anderson. Anderson provided his own leather for the extra point. He called a pass play that went 35 yards to Lanny Pratt for the next score and was successful in his boot for the extra point. Northwestern's next score was on a pass to Ed Scroggins from Anderson that went 60 yards. Quarterback Anderson booted the extra point.

Kincaid scored six points in the third quarter on a pass play. Anderson picked Scroggins again as receiver for the next six points in a 35-yard play. Anderson again kicked the extra point.

Scroggins carried the ball 153 yards in 14 carries, aiding Northwestern to eight first downs.

Northwestern led passing yardage with 135 yards, completing 8 of 13 attempts. Kincaid was six for ten and picked up 46 yards passing.

Net rushing gave Northwestern 401 yards while Kincaid picked up 110.

Lewis, Tigers Down BC 38-20 In Wild Affair

BEARDSTOWN — Phil Lewis ran for two touchdowns to spark the Tigers to a 38-20 victory over the Hornets of Brown County here Friday night. The game was part of the Midwest conference action.

Chuck Vincent intercepted a Brown County pass on Beardstown's 30-yard line, and ran it 70 yards to open the scoring. Bill Peterson kicked the extra point. With two minutes left in the period, Dale Reller swept 15 yards around right end to score, but the conversion play was blocked.

Brown County's Bob Galloway threw a 25-yard pass to Mark Hill waiting in the end zone, then Fred Dunbar kicked the extra point.

The Hornets took over the lead in the third stanza as Hill intercepted a pass on the Beardstown five and took it across to score. Dunbar again kicked the extra point. John Bridgewater then took the ball 5 yards up the middle to score, putting Brown County in front. Beardstown's John Musgrove, however, scored on a 15-yard run up the middle to close within one point of Brown County. The Hornets were ahead, 20-19, as the quarter ended.

Steve Looker intercepted a pass for Beardstown on the 50, then ran with it to the two-yard line. Paul Baujan took it in from there. Lewis scored on a one-yard quarterback sneak, but the extra point attempt was no good. Lewis scored again, this time on a 18-yard run around right end, and Reller passed to Vincent for the extra point.

Hammers Lets JHS Gain 6-6 Tie

MAKING WAY: Jacksonville tackle John Long (78) wards off a blocker and moves in on Christian Brothers ballcarrier Dick Peters (22) on this end sweep in the third quarter of a 6-6 tie on the JHS field Friday night. Peters picked up four yards to the Raiders' 41 on the play. In the play for Jacksonville also is Rod Simonds (33).

Raiders Dominate Game On Offense

By BUFORD GREEN
Sports Editor

A beautiful 20-yard touchdown run by Terryl Hammers in the fourth quarter let a sluggish Jacksonville squad salvage a non-impressive 6-6 tie with a stubborn Christian Brothers of Quincy squad, on the JHS field Friday night.

Christian Brothers, which had scored only once in losing all three of its previous starts, dominated the game with a defense that bottled up the Crimson and an offense that controlled most of the 48 minutes of action.

A quick wrapup of the game was shown by the final statistics, confirming the visitors' domination of the game. CBQ ran up 15 first downs to five for the Crimson, and managed 245 offensive yards to only 125 by Jacksonville. The Raiders had the ball for 69 plays while JHS was in control of the pigskin for 39 plays.

Even after Hammers turned in the only offensive spark for the Crimson to tie the game, with seven minutes to play, Christian Brothers came close to surging in front again before a long drive was stopped at the Crimson's 17.

Christian Brothers, with sparkling running from backs Dave Peters, Terry Davis and Dave Kinscherf doing the leg work, controlled the ball for long stretches several times during the game. A 74-yard drive ate up 18 plays and eight minutes in the second period, and a sustained march took up six minutes of the third period. JHS had the ball for only eight plays in the final frame while Christian Brothers controlled for 25 plays.

Crimson's Stopped
The visitors had great success all evening in stopping the usually potent Jacksonville running attack, mainly by the consistent use of shooting linebackers.

After Rod Simonds picked off a CBQ aerial at the Raiders' 41 in the first period, Jacksonville appeared to be taking command. A ground attack, led by Benny Richardson, moved the ball for two first downs to the Raiders' 11 before Simonds fumbled the ball away.

From there Christian Brothers ate up the clock for 18 plays in a march that carried all the way to the Jacksonville 11. There JHS tackle John Long busted through to nail Peters for a three-yard loss on a fourth and three situation to end the threat.

After holding on defense, Christian Brothers took over again on their own 48, and moved in to score in only four plays. Quarterback Tom Arnold hit Davis for 33 yards to the 29 and two plays found John Deters for six to the 20. On the next play Arnold connected with end Stan Dueterhaus for a 20-yard scoring toss, with 1:56 left in the half. The kick for the PAT sailed wide to the left.

CBQ Dominates Play
CBQ had the ball for 30 plays in the half to only 21 by JHS, and picked up 153 yards to only 45 by the hosts.

Christian Brothers held the ball for the first half of the third quarter, marching from their own 34 to the Jacksonville seven where linebacker Paul Pollock saved the Crimson with a fumble recovery at the six.

A partially-blocked punt by Charles Grojean gave JHS a scoring chance at the visitors' 45. Duane Mounts passed to John Mathews for ten before the drive bogged at the 34.

Simonds returned a Raider punt from the CBQ 40 to the visitors' 27 early in the fourth quarter to set up the lone Crimson score of the evening.

From the 27 Hammers ran for four and Jim Bruner for three to the 20. From there Hammers, a hard-running 180-pound junior, busted over right tackle, broke three tackles and was stopped twice before crashing into the end zone. Mounts' kick for the extra point blew wide to the left.

Christian Brothers proceeded to use their ground game again to take up most of the remaining time. The Raiders moved from their own 37 to the Jacksonville 17 before coughing up the ball. Twice in the series Jacksonville was over-anxious on punting situations, jumped offside and gave the visitors a first down.

Mounts and Mathews each knocked down desperation passes near the end zone and Jacksonville got the ball at their own 17 after a fourth down run fell only a foot short.

Jacksoville is now 2-1-1. Jacksonville 0 0 0 6-6
Christian Brothers 0 6 0 0-6

North Greene jumped to a 13-0 lead in the first period when Nichols connected with halfback Robert Dawdy on a 20-yard score and halfback Gary Early lunged three yards for a TD. Jerry Marsh kicked the PAT on the second score.

The winners boosted the difference to 19-0 at intermission when Nichols teamed with end Eric VanTuyke on a seven-yard strike.

Calhoun got on the board in the third with quarterback Dick Angel connecting with end Bill Behrens on a 35-yard aerial TD. Behrens kicked the point after.

Nichols passed 26 yards to end Jeff Strang in the third, with Marsh again booting the PAT, and Dawdy legged an eight-yard score in the fourth. Nichols kept for the extra point.

North Greene, despite losing five fumbles, ground out 412 yards on the ground and hit eight of 14 passes for 97 more yards. Calhoun rushed for 267 yards and passed for 88. North Greene piled up 22 first downs to seven by the losers.

Name Luman Harris To Manage Atlanta

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Luman Harris was named manager of the Atlanta Braves baseball team Friday, succeeding the fired Billy Hitchcock.

The announcement was made at a news conference called by Paul Richards, vice president of the Braves for whom Harris had played, coached and managed for years.

Hitchcock was fired without advance notice Sept. 29 with the Atlanta team mired in seventh place in the National League standings.

Harris, 52, who pitched for seven years with the former Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators, this year managed the Braves' Richmond club to the International League pennant.

He had played, coached and managed under Richards in Atlanta, Buffalo, Chicago, Baltimore and Houston.

He coached for the Chicago White Sox in 1951-54 and for the Baltimore Orioles in 1955-61. He was coach at Houston from 1962 through 1964 and managed the Astros in 1965.

Harris served as coach under Richards when the latter was named manager of the Baltimore Orioles in 1961 and became interim manager when Richards quit.

Daniels Sparks Wolves To 19-7 Non-Loop Margin

BOWLING GREEN, Mo. — Robert Daniels scored all three touchdowns to pace Pleasant Hill to a 19-7 non-conference triumph over Bowling Green, Mo., here Friday evening.

Daniels scored on carries of three, one and 12 yards, as Pleasant Hill came from a 7-6 deficit at halftime. Junior Sheppard's one-yard lunge accounted for the losers' only score.

The winning squad ran up 356 yards on the ground and hit eight of 12 passes for 125 yards through the air. Bowling Green was held to 138 rushing yards. Pleasant Hill held a 16-2 margin on first downs.

Pleasant Hill is now 3-1 for the season, and 1-0-1 in conference play. Southwestern's record is identical.

Triopia Rolls Past Bluffs 21-7

BLUFFS — The Triopia Trojans picked up a second PMSC conference win, Friday night, downing the Bluffs Bluejays 21-7.

Triopia, with an overall record of two wins and two losses, began their scoring in the first quarter. Rodney Nobis picked up a short punt by Bluffs and scored after the team worked their way upfield from the 15-yard line. The extra point attempt was good.

Bluffs recouped in the second quarter on a pass interception by Jim Settles. Settles caught the Trojan ball on his own 15-yard line returning it 85-yards for the touchdown. He also scored the extra point.

Trojan Jim Lovekamp returned the edge to his team on a drive that took him over the goal line. Dennis Braner ran over for the extra point.

Braner ran the next score over for Triopia in the fourth period, followed by Lovekamp with the extra point.

Bluffs now has an overall record of no wins and four losses and in conference records has no wins and three losses.

Score by quarters:
Triopia 7 0 7 7-21
Bluffs 0 7 0 0-7

Southwestern, Carrollton Play To 0-0 Deadlock

CARROLLTON — Carrollton and Southwestern blanked each other in a game played at Carrollton Friday evening. Steve Berry had the only big run in the game, gaining 45 yards for Southwestern early in the final quarter. The game was played in the Illinois Valley loop.

The two teams stayed between the two 30-yard lines for most of the first half.

Southwestern approached to within nine yards of their goal in the third quarter, but was stopped. They tried a field goal which failed.

Berry's long haul came early in the third quarter, bringing the ball to the Birds' 28-yard line. The drive stopped there, and Carrollton took over the ball.

Southwestern made a desperate bid at a field goal with one second left in the game, but the attempt was foiled.

Carrollton controlled the game on the ground, rushing for 168 yards, compared to Southwestern's 120. Carrollton collected ten first downs, while Southwestern got six. Carrollton completed two of six passes for 15 yards, while Southwestern completed three for 12, gaining 26 yards. Each team intercepted one pass and fumbled twice. Carrollton lost both fumbles, while Southwestern lost only one. Carrollton lost 40 yards in penalties, Southwestern lost only five.

Carrollton is now 4-0-1 in season play, and 1-0-1 in conference play. Southwestern's record is identical.

SUCCESS STORY

CHICAGO — (NEA) — Champion trotter Speedy Rodney brought a sales price of $600,000, although he was sold as a yearling for only $6,500.

During his career, "Rodney" earned better than $250,000 for his owners, Wayne and John Carey, and Bob Mann.

WINNING LAW

PITTSBURGH — (NEA) — Vernon Law, who retired during the '67 season won 162 games and lost 147 during his 18 seasons with the Pirates.

His best year was in pennant-winning 1960, when he posted a 20-9 record.

Illini To Resume Rivalry With Gophers Saturday

CHAMPAIGN — One of the Big Ten's most colorful rivalries resumes Saturday after a lapse of several years when Illinois hosts Minnesota at the 57th Annual Illini Homecoming in Memorial Stadium.

Some of the most memorable games in Big Ten history have pitted the Golden Gophers against the Illini. The two teams, who first met in 1898 when the Illini took an 11-10 victory, have played 32 times. Illinois has won 14, lost 17 and there has been one tie.

The last meeting was in 1964, when Illinois downed the Gophers 14-0 at Minneapolis.

One of the most memorable games was in 1916 in what many sports historians regard as the greatest football upset of all time. The Gopher powerhouse had pulverized five opponents, South Dakota, 61-0, Wisconsin, 54-0, Chicago, 49-0, Iowa, 67-0, and North Dakota, 47-7, prior to entertaining the Illini.

Illinois had won only one of five games, edging Purdue, 14-7. They'd lost to one of the Gophers' victims, Chicago, 20-7, and tied another, Wisconsin, 0-0. They also lost to Colgate, 15-3, and Ohio State, 7-6.

But Illini Coach Bob Zuppke came up with an innovation — a spread formation, the first time such a formation was ever used. Illinois moved quickly downfield against the perplexed Gophers and quarterback Bart Macomber plunged for the score from the one. The Illini scored again on a pass interception and led 14-0 at halftime to the amazement of all. They held on in the second half to win, 14-0.

Minnesota and Illinois have been foes in a number of homecoming contests. Jim Grabowski and company won the 1963 game, 16-6, before returning alumni. In 1957 the Gophers were ranked number one in the nation when they came to Champaign for a homecoming tilt. Illinois won, 34-13.

3-Way Tie In Alcan

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Billy Casper, Gay Brewer and 22-year-old Brian Barnes of England led the Alcan Golfers of the Year tournament by two strokes Saturday after three rounds. Each had an aggregate of 212.

Eleven United States pros, seven British and New Zealanders and Bob Charles comprise the hand-picked field. Total prize money is $125,000.

George Archer, the ex-cowboy from Gilroy, Calif., is next to the leaders at 214 while Gardner Dickinson of Lost Tree Village, Fla., Dave Stockton of San Bernardino, Calif., and Christy O'Connor of Ireland are three strokes behind.

Casper, former U.S. Open champion and the 4-1 favorite here, appeared headed for a big lead but bogeyed the last two holes and finished with a one-over-par 73. Casper scuffed his second shot on the last hole when an attendant at a nearby score board dropped a box of numbers just as he swung.

"That is why I looked like a duffer," Casper moaned.

Brewer, the 1967 Masters champion, was three over par on the first five holes but was in control again as he reached the turn on the Old Course, the legendary home of golf where par is 36-36-72. He got a birdie on the short 11th hole where he sank a 12-foot putt and another on the 560-yard 14th when he reached the green in two. He also shot a 73.

The only sub-par round, a 71, of this bright but windy day was turned in by Barnes, the young Briton who has been such a surprise here. He matched par on the first nine and was under coming home. His birdie came on the very last hole where he dropped a 10-foot putt.

Series Shuffle

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Cardinal management shuffled its national anthem singing lineup Saturday, moving Mary Schoendienst to the Monday "cleanup spot."

The wife of Cardinal manager Red Schoendienst was slated to sing the anthem at the outset of the first series game in St. Louis but couldn't do it. She was suffering from a mild case of laryngitis because she rooted too hard at Boston.

"There was such a small number of St. Louis roosters," said the attractive mother of four, who sang the national anthem in the 1964 Cardinal-Yankee series. "We wives had to yell extra hard."

A St. Louis school teacher, Gerald Hutton was moved to the Saturday lead-off spot. Hard rooting Mary Schoendienst will sing on Monday. Sunday's National anthem will be sung by local radio and recording artist Marty Bronson.

THAT EXTRA EFFORT — Principia's Alex Smith twists through the Illinois college defense in the first quarter of yesterday's game here for 4 yards to the IC 17 yard line. Blueboys pictured are Mike Herter (62) of Springfield, Dave Garst (70) Girard and John Frazier (74) of Chicago; Principia handed IC their first loss, 13-0.

The New York Giants claim that Homer Jones, who holds one decision over Bob Hayes in a track uniform, would beat him wearing football togs . . . because, for one thing, Homer's better equipped to handle the extra impost at 220 pounds . . .

What you can learn hanging around a dressing room: that athletes are no longer allowed to make shaving commercials sans blade in the razor. Because of a bleed, they have to risk cutting their throats for the extra dough . . .

No batter ever stood more confidently at the plate than Carl Yastrzemski, with bat held high and radiating a pervasive feeling that he can hit every pitch out of the park. The irony of his big triple-crown (well, two-and-a-half crown, to be exact) year is that he blossomed into a bona fide team player when they no longer shouldered him with the responsibility of being Rex Sox team captain . . .

Sandy Koufax, boy announcer, is the picture of relaxation before it's time to get on the air for NBC-TV. It's after the red light goes on that he tightens up . . .

The autumn days in the career of Willie Mays remind Andy Robustelli of the first time he saw Willie. Mays was a rookie in '51, when the Giants performed the Little Miracle of Coogan's Bluff to win the National League pennant. That same year Robustelli broke into professional football with the Los Angeles Rams en route to an all-pro career. But in the spring, when Willie reported to the Giants in the old Polo Grounds for his debut, Andy was on the scene — as close as you can get. He caught batting practice that day, and spurned a Class B contract offer by the Giants . . .

The man the Dallas Cowboys miss most of all is the man in the middle, Dave Manders, who broke his ankle during the training season. Without him snapping the ball and picking up blitzes, Don Meredith is a less-effective quarterback . . .

Hubert Humphrey, vice-president and inveterate Minnesota Twin fan, demonstrated the value of political fence straddling when he told the mayor of Boston, a Red Sox partisan: "When I watch the American League play, I have a national point of view. When I watch the National, I have an American point of view." . . . if you can decipher what that all means.

Pro scouts tab at least five players on the Wyoming football team as good draft prospects. And the best of them all may be an unballooned defensive end named Mike Dirks . . .

Clark Hinkle, now a television sports director in Steubenville, is in the pro Hall of Fame at Canton and is among the ranking nominees for the college Hall of Fame for his exploits as a Bucknell fullback.

The Green Bay great, an Ohio native, explained how he happened to go to Bucknell: "My brother Gordon was coached at Bellefonte Academy (in Pennsylvania) by Carl Snively. When Carl became the coach at Bucknell, he came out to our home in Ohio to recruit him.

But my brother had already signed a professional baseball contract. So he took me instead."

The quick way to make it as a tight end in football is to belong to the Smith family. In the National League, there are Jerry Smith of Washington, Jackie Smith of St. Louis and Ralph Smith of Cleveland, all playing regularly at that position . . . In all, there are seven Smiths in the NFL . . . and three in the AFL . . .

Between you'n'me, the pro football players get the big glamor play now, but they're not in the same bracket with other sports when it comes to making the big dough. John Unitas was tops in the NFL last year at $60,000. Though it hasn't been announced because of legal complications involving his personal finances, he's already reached terms with the Colts on a whopping new deal . . .

5 Injured As Car Overtakes At New Berlin

NEW BERLIN — Five persons, four of them Jacksonville teenagers, were injured shortly before 6 p.m. Friday when the car in which they were passengers overturned on U.S. 36-54 at the west edge of New Berlin.

The driver, James Thompson of Springfield, was not injured. Taken by ambulance to St. John's hospital in Springfield were Kay Garrett of 918 N. East St., Glenda Shepard, 1016 N. Clay; Joan Trumbo, 908 Cox St. and Marsha Dougherty, 118 Walnut Court.

Hickman, was thrown from the car, sustained a fractured leg and was believed to be the most seriously injured.

Police said the car, eastbound on the highway, apparently skidded out of control as it rounded the New Berlin curve during a brisk rain shower.

CEC To Host Special Ed Conference

William Kaufmann, president of the Jacksonville Chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children, has announced plans for the tenth annual Illinois High School Conference on Special Education to be held on November 12 and 13. Junior and senior students interested in exploring career opportunities in special education have been invited. About two hundred students from all parts of the state are expected to attend.

The Special Services Building, Illinois School for the Deaf, will be the center of activities. Following registration on Sunday, a varied program of exhibits, clinics, observation of classes in local schools and recreation will provide two stimulating days for the conference visitors. On Sunday evening, MacMurray students will entertain the group.

Members of the Jacksonville community are asked to help provide housing on Sunday, November 12, for the visitors. Anyone interested in offering hospitality to the students is invited to call Mrs. Rhoda Samore (245-6749), Chairman of the housing committee.

Other chairmen appointed by Mrs. Virginia Gray and Philip Cronlund, co-chairmen of the conference, include Dr. Donald Brown, program; Mrs. Mary Walsh, transportation; Mrs. Delores Hill, registration; Mrs. Marge Korschgen, hospitality; Ken Brasel, exhibits; Mrs. Elizabeth Morris, food; Miss Cherri Oberg, badges and packets; Dave Adams, luggage and Miss Rose McGuire, publicity.

Brockhouse Rites At Bluffs

BLUFFS — Funeral services for Mrs. Elta Brockhouse were held at St. John's Lutheran church at 2 p.m. Friday with Reverend George Bischoff officiating. Mrs. Helen Cumby was the organist.

The flowers were arranged by Mrs. Agnes Baker, Mrs. Marietta Petri and Mrs. Marilyn Varley.

Pallbearers were C. O. Mueller, Harold Morthole, John R. Brockhouse, Lester Baker, Raymond Werries and Alvin Werries.

Harold Bridgman and Robert Bangert served as ushers at the church.

Burial was in Fairview cemetery.

CHANDLERVILLE CLUB TO MEET OCT. 9

CHANDLERVILLE — The Chandlerville Senior Woman's Club will hold their October meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 9 in the club room of the Christian Church.

Dr. Francis J. Vincent of Virginia will speak on Health; and Terry Brooks will play a piano solo.

The serving committee will include Mrs. Arthur Glick, Mrs. Adrian Arthalony, Mrs. Loran Arthalony, Mrs. G. L. Jurgens, Mrs. Edna May Casper, Mrs. James Fletcher, Mrs. George Carpenter and Mrs. Alan Armstrong.

The Mature Parent

Why Parents Must Demand Sex Education in Schools

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What's your opinion of schools incorporating sex instruction into their general instruction of children?

Mine has been a little wobbly until now. Now I'm wholly for it because of a reprinted article sent me by the Sex Education and Information Council of the United States, because of the realistic sense contained in the points made by its authors, Dr. Lester A. Kirkendall, professor of family life, and Deryck Calderwood of Oregon State University. First, reminding us that sex instruction is considerably more than information on the mechanics of human reproduction, they suggest that we parents may just NOT be able to teach children to use these mechanics responsibly. Not any more. Not bombarded as they are night and day by the commercialized salacity of our mass media. We may just not be able to counteract the influence of the leering filth to which they are so constantly exposed. That's the point that really

The next one is nearly as persuasive. It is that the emotional meaning of our own love experience to us makes it very difficult to convey sexual reality to our children. We don't want to. And myself, I don't see why we should want to, wanting as we do to keep that emotional meaning private.

The third point is that the teen-ager's struggle (and he's always the one we fail) with his sexuality is really a struggle for his own identity, for his separateness from us.

The fourth point in favor of schools' sex education is, of course, the Pill. As the authors say, "The young do not now scare so easily as they used to." And they don't. Between the removal of pregnancy fear and the leering salacity of this moralistic society of ours, the kids won't scare at all any more. Thus, motivation other than terror of illegal babies must be found and provided to them if they are to begin to respect sexual decision as a social decision—as a profoundly responsible, not a "fun" thing. Do you know what that motivation is? If you don't, you'd better consider agreeing with me.

HONOR BIRTHDAYS AT ROODHOUSE CLASS LUNCHEON

ROODHOUSE -- The monthly potluck luncheon meeting of the Amoma class of the First Baptist church was held in the fellowship room, Tuesday. Twenty-three members and guests were present. Guests included Miss Bernadine Lewis, Mrs. Alice Ed-Hopkins, Mrs. James Little, Mrs. Carmen Allen.

Hazel Sage, Mrs. Cecile Manning, Rev. H. L. Janvrin, Mrs. Lewis Hudson.

Hostesses were Mrs. Cecile Hawk, Mrs. Julia Anthony, Mrs. Emmett Edwards, who were assisted by Mrs. Hudson.

The devotions were given by Mrs. Homer Thompson who spoke on "Prayer for the Middle-Aged." Accompanying music was furnished by Mrs. Roy Reynolds at the piano.

The president, Mrs. Anna Roe, conducted the business session. It was announced that the Golden Age luncheon will be held in the local church on Oct. 19. The Amoma class will furnish the dessert.

The birthday song was sung honoring the following members: Mrs. Harvey Hull, Mrs. Oscar Langley, Mrs. Josiah Hopkins, Mrs. James Little, Mrs. Carmen Allen.

Chapin Farmer Likes Chopped Stover Feed

CINCINNATI — In the fall issue of The Farm Quarterly the article "Two Crops From a Cornfield" tells why a Chapin, Ill., farmer, F. W. Lakamp, has made his last corn silage. "Why make corn silage when you can make stover silage and add your corn back to it the way you want?" he asks. Lakamp harvests 50 acres of corn, then he shuts down the combine and proceeds back over the same acres cutting the stalks. Lakamp feels he has been successful in making stover silage because he has had no spoilage or mold. He calls stover silage his free feed; he says, "This is a cheap feed—something that is normal waste." The estimated 250 tons of chopped stover which was put into the silo in mid-October kept 70 cows for 140 days. No other feed or protein supplement was fed the cows. Many farmers don't feel the same way. The busiest time of the year is corn-harvest time and manpower and equipment are at a premium. A solution to the equipment problem, which is still in experimental stages, could reduce the corn and stover harvesting operation to a single step. The grain is shelled and placed in a grain tank and the stover is chopped and put into a trailing wagon. There is no doubt that farmers will be looking at corn stover silage as a way to move into beef production if the equipment question can be solved. An estimated 40 per cent of the nutrients from an acre of corn are in the stalks and leaves, this could be a potential profit of $40 to $75 per acre through beef cows. Corn stover silage is low in energy, thus limiting its use as a feed, but by adding corn the silage can be changed to a finished ration. The details of this informative article are featured in the Fall issue on sale at the newsstands in this area Tuesday.

It's 'Back To School' For Extension Staff

About 300 Cooperative Extension Service workers "go back to school" next week (October 9-12) on the University of Illinois campus. The Extension workers—mostly county advisers—will choose from 23 refresher courses on current agricultural and home economics subjects. Each staff member will enroll in two classes conducted by College of Agriculture instructors and specialists. Timely courses include "Economics of Corn Harvesting, Conditioning, Storage, and Marketing," "New Developments in Food Products," "New Legislation Regarding Food Products," and "4-H Leadership Development." The courses offer both subject matter and teaching methods to help advisers more effectively serve the educational needs of their counties. The fall conference opens with a Monday luncheon and an address on "Continuing Education" by Prof. E. W. Anderson, leader of Extension education, U. of I. College of Agriculture. The state associations of agricultural and home economics advisers meet separately Wednesday evening. Advisers will also have time during the conference to talk with state specialists about specific educational programs in the counties. John B. Claar, director of the Cooperative Extension Service, will speak to the group at the closing luncheon Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Sue Zeek and Mrs. Larry McKinley are the Town and Country leaders. Huntsville Zippers received a B rating, Little Lucky Lassies and the Lucky Charmers 4-H Clubs received C ratings. Judges were Mrs. Carl Metz and Mrs. Charles Koch of Brown County.

BRIMFUL and running over

By Jim Brim Each year we have many tractors and other pieces of slow moving farm equipment that must be moved on the highway. Several years ago legislation was passed regarding the marking of these pieces of equipment. The Illinois Bar association has this to say about this law: Farmers may drive tractors or other slow moving vehicles on public highways if they give proper warning to approaching traffic. This may be done in one of two ways. A red flag at least ten feet above the ground or a red warning light visible at least five hundred feet to the rear must be displayed on the rear of the vehicle anytime it is on the highway. Besides being legally necessary it just makes good sense to do everything possible to let people know you are on the road and prevent accidents. One of the flashing red lights is a good investment, especially if you must be on the road at dusk or during periods of darkness. The much used statement, "The life you save may be your own," applies here. Now you should... Harvest. Be sure you harvest all you produce. ... Crack walnuts. ... Clean your gun. ... Check radiators. ... Drink cider. ... Look at the new trucks. ... Pick bittersweet. ... Watch the weather. It's time to be giving some thought to "winterizing." Preparing machinery, house, livestock buildings for cold weather requires thought and planning. It's time to think about it. Winter may not be far away. Folks can make monkeys of themselves by carrying tales.

4-H Activities

ASHLAND—At a recent meeting of the Berea Ag 4-H club, officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President, Raymond Bloomfield; vice-president, LeRoy Robinson; secretary, Ruth Ann Johnson; treasurer, Ronald Petefish; reporter, Gary Martin; health officer, Danny Keltner; safety officer, Donald Petefish, and recreation, Ronnie Hoagland. Federation delegates are: Raymond Bloomfield, Danny Keltner, and LeRoy Robinson, alternate. A committee for the 4-H window display was named by the president as LeRoy Robinson, Danny Keltner, Ruth Ann Johnson, Ronald Petefish, Raymond Bloomfield and Kathy Reiser. A Wiener roast and hayride will be held at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 27, at the home of Bobby and Ruth Ann Johnson. On the committee in charge are LeRoy Robinson, Greg Lepper, Donald Petefish and Raymond Bloomfield. Two new members were welcomed into the club. They are Patricia Bloomfield and Susan Martin. Officers of the Victory Ag 4-H club met recently at the home of leader Charles Williams. During the meeting, committees were named and specific assignments made. Chosen as junior leaders were Lee Burris, Steve David, Roger LaKamp, Kenny Rahe and Paul Swagmeyer.

New Concept - Motel Opens For Traveling Horses

By MARY ANN THOMPSON Springfield, Mo., Daily News Writer
Written for The Associated Press
MARSHFIELD, Mo. (AP) — There's a new concept in motels near Marshfield—one for horses. Since a surprising number of horses travel, Wayne Biggs got the idea to build a motel for them. "As a hobby I've always trained and worked with horses," Biggs says. "For several years I occasionally boarded horses in my old barn for tourists when they stopped at a nearby motel or restaurant and inquired where they could sleep their horses. "Then I decided to build a real motel for horses since it seemed that travelers wanted this." Biggs charges $5 a night for each animal if the owner provides the feed and care. The Some customers have even called ahead for reservations. "Our most interesting night 'One night we had 20 horses,' he says. "That was just about capacity." was when we had six llamas, a dancing horse and a dog act," Biggs says. Another night the motel housed 11 Arabian mares and stallions imported from Poland. They had been flown to New York and were en route to Scottsdale, Ariz. "One was a little ill so we called a veterinarian from business and in his spare time he and three helpers erected the large barn for visiting horses. rate is $7 with meals and care.

Biggs is in the construction Marshfield," Biggs says. Other "guests" have been Apaloozas from Indiana traveling to Texas. Two race horses from New Mexico used the accommodations. The motel office stresses a Western theme—music, horse paintings and figures, trophies and paneled walls. Each Wednesday night Biggs is host to anyone who wishes to participate in a free, quarter-horse show and rodeo. Bleachers are provided for spectators at the outside arena. Biggs owns nine horses. He cites horse shows with 200 to 300 animals entered as evidence of the animal's increasing popularity.

ONE-IN-A-MILLION is this long-eared colt posing with his mother, Malia, owned by Clarence Mayer of Brownstown, Wis. The 7-week-old colt is a rarity—the offspring of a mule and a horse.

Harvest Time Brings More Farm Accidents

Statistics show that the farm accident rate jumps during the harvesting season, reports O. L. Hogsett, University of Illinois Extension safety specialist. An accident may cost more than just time and money; it could cost a life. Hogsett urges farmers to make proper adjustments and repairs before starting for the field. Open, moving parts are always dangerous, Hogsett says. Make sure all shields and guards are in place. Before getting off the combine or corn picker, make sure all moving parts have stopped. This holds true for making adjustments and repairs in the field. Don't get in a hurry, Hogsett cautions. Haste inevitably leads to carelessness and most accidents, he says. Long hours and constant rushing cause excessive fatigue. It is natural for a tired person to become careless and impatient. To reduce fatigue, Hogsett suggests combine or corn picker operators change off every two or three hours. A fresh driver will be more cautious and have faster reactions than a tired one. Rainy weather causes accidents, too. Smooth metal surfaces on machinery become slick when wet. Add to this muddy field conditions and the stage is set for a life-losing accident. Wear rubber-soled shoes for more grip on metal surfaces. Leather soles can be disastrous. Also, avoid loose, flopping sleeves and trouser legs that may easily catch on moving parts. Clothing is a major factor in causing accidents, Hogsett says.

Illinois Farm OUTLOOK

PIG CROP REPORT THROWS NEW LIGHT ON THE OUTLOOK

Some new light was thrown on the hog outlook by the September Pig Crop Report. The report (released by the USDA on September 21) was based largely on reports returned by farmers in 10 leading states as of September 1. These are the highlights of the report: 1. The number of market hogs on hand September 1 was 39.3 million — 2 percent fewer than last year. 2. Farmers reported the intention of having 2,132,000 sows to farrow in the fall quarter (September - October - November) — 1 percent less than during the same three months a year ago. 3. Farmers expect to have 1,703,000 sows to farrow during the winter quarter (December - January - February) — 2 percent less than last year. Weights of hogs on hand. The number of market hogs weighing over 180 pounds on hand as of September 1 was listed at 6 million head — up 2 percent from last year. Most of these hogs will be marketed by the end of October. Hogs weighing 120 to 180 pounds on September 1 were estimated at 9.4 million — 1 percent below a year ago. Most of these hogs will reach market weight in October and November. The number of pigs weighing 60 to 120 pounds was reported at 10.2 million — 6 percent fewer than a year ago. Most of these pigs should make pork in December and January. Pigs weighing less than 60 pounds were estimated at 13.7 million — 1 percent more than a year ago. They are expected to reach market weight mostly in February and March. From these figures, we conclude that market supplies of hogs will be about the same — maybe a little less — during the next 6 months, compared with the same 6 months last year. Supplies of competitive meat are also expected to be near the levels of last year. Price prospects. Our guess is that hog prices will average about the same this fall and winter as they did a year before, but with a different trend. Last fall, prices of barrows and gilts at central markets averaged $21.57 in October, then held around $19.50 through February. Average prices sagged to $18.43 in March, to $17.62 in April, but climbed to $21.83 for May, and to $22.29 for June. Since prices have already

Make-It-With -Wool Entries Close Friday

Have you made a dress or suit of wool this year that you're rather proud of? If not, can you turn out one by Oct. 28? Again this year the American Wool Council is offering fabulous prizes, scholarships and all-expense travel trips. They are being assisted by everybody connected with the wool textile business and most everybody who makes a sewing machine or cuts patterns. In Illinois the "Make-It-Yourself-With Wool" contest is co-sponsored by the Illinois Agricultural Association. This year the District 5 contest, which includes 17 central and western Illinois counties, will be held at the Morgan County Farm Bureau. The judges will view the garments on hangers beginning at 8 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 28, and then the maker must model it that afternoon. Prizes there range from 20 suit lengths of wool furnished by Burlington Mills, plus many other gifts. The Illinois winner will be sent to Dallas, Texas, for the national contest in January. The winner there will be simply overloaded by gifts, including an all-expense trip to Rome, Athens, the Grecian islands and Madrid. Scholarships will be awarded to the youngest seamstresses. They range from $750 to $1,000 each school year. Entries may be made in three age categories, says Mrs. Vivian Dodd of Loami, who is in charge of the contest in this district. She is being assisted by Mrs. Clyde York, president of Morgan County Farm Bureau Women's organization, and her co-workers. The categories are: Junior, 14-16 years of age; senior, 17-21 years, and adults. Entry blanks may be picked up at the Morgan County Farm Bureau office and must be completed by Friday.

Japan Continues U.S. No. 1 Food Customer, Over $Billion A Year

Japan is the American farmer's biggest cash customer. She spent over a billion dollars last year for U.S. farm and ranch produce ranging from soybeans and cotton to hides.

Japan is not only one of the world's great markets for food and feed today, it is an expanding market. Last year she was able to produce 80 per cent of her food; this year 79 per cent, next year 78 per cent. This is not only the result of an increased population since Japan has increased only one per cent per year since the war years. She is also losing land to industry and housing developments.

Japanese farms are small and are predominately owned by the operator. Following World War II Japan purchased land from the large landowners and sold it on reasonable long-term arrangements to the tenant farmer. Most farmers do not own more than seven acres. There are five and a half million farms with almost four million under two and a half acres. Their problems are similar to those of American farmers even though the farms are small. Farms Get Larger

The number of farms is gradually diminishing and the size of farms increasing. Japanese land is the most intensively farmed in the world. In some areas double cropping is practiced. Or you might see several rows of soybeans or even cabbages on the narrow borders that edge the ricefields. Harvesting 2.4 to 2.7 acres of crops from each acre is not uncommon. They practice what might be called three-dimensional agriculture with rather deep furrows between ridges. This way they can raise a quick crop of radishes, while in the furrows they are growing eggplants. After the radishes, they will put wheat on the ridges, harvesting the eggplants later from the furrows and replacing it with cucumbers. With the search for better seed, the ever-increasing use of fertilizer, insecticides, herbicides, and the increasing mechanization, Japanese farmers are pushing their yield figures higher. But in all this they are losing the race toward self-sufficiency.

Heavily Subsidized In Japan self-sufficiency is a political hot potato. The nationalists and many city people demand that this be the objective of government programs, and on paper, it is. Actually, the realists point out that every new acre reclaimed from the mountains for agriculture is done so at a totally uneconomical price. Rice is a government monopoly and is heavily subsidized. The consumer, buying retail, pays about one percent less than the farmer gets from government. In other words, the farmer's share of the consumer rice dollar is $1.01. Wheat is subsidized at about $3.75 a bushel, soybeans at almost $5 a bushel.

In addition to short supply and high support prices, a rising standard of living is at work to increase imports. Since the war Japan has rebuilt her cities and her factories and has risen to become the fifth most powerful industrial nation in the world.

REFERENDUM ON EXTENSION COMING UP NOV. 7

On November 7, Morgan County voters will act on a proposal to levy a tax of not more than 1 cent per $100 assessed value of property in the county for the support of the Co-operative Extension Service. The Co-operative Extension Service is an educational program to bring research results from the University of Illinois and other land grant colleges to the people of Morgan County. The 4H program is an important activity conducted by the Extension Service aided by local leaders. The tax, if approved, will be used to provide rent, telephone, office supplies, postage, a portion of the advisers' travel expense and a portion of secretarial salaries. The rest of the funds needed come from state and federal sources. The funds will be disbursed under the direction of a board composed of two members from the agricultural council, two members from the Home Economics Council and three members appointed by the county commissioners. If passed, the maximum amount that could be levied would amount to thirty cents for each $100 now paid in taxes.

FROM THE CORN CRIB The neighbors of a bride out in our west suburbs chipped in and bought her a coffee percolator. One of them heard her say that she got up every morning and made coffee in her pajamas.

Across the Fields and Furrows is brought to you daily at 12:25 P.M. on WLDS 1180 on your dial by the people at Elliott State Bank.

Reviews 1968 Wheat Plan Requirements

Winter wheat seeding for 1968 harvest is now underway stated Lester E. Martin chairman, Morgan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

He reminded Illinois wheat producers that they can qualify for the benefits of the 1968 wheat program by observing the following provisions:

1. Sign up as a program participant at the appropriate time. In 1967, program sign-ups for wheat and feed grains were held in the ASCS county office in February-March.
2. Stay within the participating farm's wheat allotment (unless the excess wheat option or the substitution provisions are used). Under the excess wheat option, a grower may plant up to 50 percent in excess of his allotment acreage and still be eligible for marketing certificates and loans if the excess production is stored and other conditions of the program are met. Under the substitution provision, growers taking part in both the wheat and feed grain programs may substitute one for the other.

3. Meet the conserving base established for the farm. The 1968 conserving bases will be increased by the same amount they were decreased when the last 15 percent increase in acreage allotments was made for 1967.)

4. Remain within any other crop acreage allotments established for the participating farm.

5. Stay within any wheat allotment, substitution provision, or excess wheat option for other farms in which the producer has an interest.

Domestic marketing certificates for the 1968 wheat crop will be valued at the difference between full wheat parity, and the national average $1.25 price-support loan value. (The value of 1967-crop certificates is $1.36 per bushel.) The 1968 certificates will be issued on the projected production of 40 percent of the farm allotment; the loans will be available on all the wheat produced on a participating farm.

Chairman Martin also said that the Morgan County ASCS Office was offering measurement service to wheat producers. This service guarantees farmers of exact compliance with the program provisions.

THIRTEEN ATTEND MEETING OF LOCAL FELLOWSHIP UNIT

Thirteen members of the Women's Fellowship group of First Christian church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Bonnie Bowen.

The president, Mrs. Joyce Peek, opened the meeting. Mrs. Kay Cosner led the group in devotion. The missionary chairman presented a brief report on the Osaka Bible Seminary in Japan. The program schedule for the year, as presented by the committee, was approved.

During the business session, members voted to sponsor Miss Nancy Peck, a student at Lincoln Christian College, as a club project. At Christmastime a donation will be sent to Congo missionaries Ronald and Carolyn Butler.

Homemade cookies, to be sent to servicemen as Christmas gifts, will be packed during the next meeting.

Following the program, the meeting closed with prayer offered by Mrs. Sharon Brown. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

October, 1867

The death is announced, in the parish of St. Martin, Colchester, England, of Mrs. Ann Rumsey, widow, in her one hundred and fourth year. She was the daughter of the celebrated circumnavigator, Captain Cook, who was massacred by the natives of Owhyhee, in the South Sea Islands, and she was born only a few years after the accession of George III to the throne.

DOMESTIC

October, 1867

In the serenade to Gen. Sheridan, in Boston on Monday last, the crowd in Bowdoin Square was so great that over thirty ladies fainted. One had her ribs broken, and others were less injured.

The latest report about Mrs. Lincoln and her wardrobe is that the auctioneer has received instructions not to offer the goods for sale at auction, parties having come together and made up a purse equivalent to their value, together with the goods, if she should so desire. We give the report as it comes, without vouching for its correctness.

The Republican majority in Iowa is 27,000.

The St. Louis fair closed on Saturday. It was a great success.

The number of students at Michigan University exceeds that of any other American college. The law department alone numbers about five hundred, from not only the western and southern states, but also from New England.

Mrs. Lincoln is writing a book to be entitled "Five Years in the White House."

The poet Longfellow has sold his real estate in Stockbridge to C. F. Southmayd of New York for $12,500. There are some eighty acres, on one of the most slightly and picturesque places in Berkshire county.

Martin Gates, of Duncanville, Pa., recently felt something unpleasant in his side, and a physician extracted a brass button which had been driven into his body by a rebel bullet in front of Petersburg three years ago.

The Bloomington Pantagraph hoists the name of Ulysses S. Grant for president, subject to the decision of the national Republican convention.

The Brooklyn printers are all on strike. In the newspaper offices they want forty cents per thousand. The present rate is thirty-five.

In those days all type was set by hand and it was measured by "ems," the space occupied by that letter in any case of type used. A hundred years ago most columns were 14 ems wide and usually in six point type.

What you are reading is 11 ems wide, in 8½ point type on a 9 slug, which leaves considerable white space for easier reading.

The printers on strike certainly weren't overpaid. They had to make all corrections, galleys, and then break down what they had set up, and distribute each character back into its proper place.

INDIAN SCARE

A hundred years ago this month quite a few cattlemen from Morgan, Greene and Sangamon county were waiting in Abilene, Kans., to size up and buy Texas cattle driven over the new trail that later acquired the historic name of "Chisholm."

Naturally things were pretty dull in that little hick town stuck along the new tracks of the Kansas Pacific railroad and the buyers had to invent ways and means of entertaining each other.

But along the first of October along came what they had been waiting for — a dude, a 100% dandy and top, all wool.

He was something to see, with his tight corset britches, blue boots, checkered vest, ruffled shirt, flowing tie and plum colored frock coat. His rig was topped off by a high white beaver hat.

He certainly presented a sight, especially to the trail drivers, buffalo hunters and mountain men, who considered themselves well dressed if they found something either two sizes too small for them, or three sizes too big.

His gold headed ebony walking stick fascinated them, but not so much as his "one-eyed spec," as they labeled his monocle.

From Bay State

This fine gentleman was a native of Boston who had spent most of his time in Europe following graduation from Harvard College. It was in Germany, at an exclusive spa and watering place, that he had met his wife-to-be.

She was from Greene county. She was the sole heir to acres and acres and acres in Greene, Jersey and Macoupin counties.

She was pretty and had an eye for fashion and dress. After two years at Western College for Women at Oxford, O., she "finished" at Northampton Academy for Females (it later became Smith College) before beginning the traditional "grand tour" of Europe, under the watchful eye of a spinster from New Haven, Conn.

It was love at first sight and the wedding took place early the next spring at her grandfather's mansion in Greene county.

Seeing The Sights

The wedding tour was by the St. Louis, Jacksonville & Chicago railroad to St. Louis, down the Mississippi to New Orleans, by steamer to Aspinwall, Panama, across to the city of Panama over the recently built Isthmus Railroad, and up to San Francisco by the Panama & Bay steamer.

Then there was a side trip to Owhyhee, the principal of the Sandwich Islands, and a long but pleasurable trip in a fast sailing brig around the Horn to New York, and then a leisurely train trip back to Greene county.

It appeared to him that all his wife's second cousins and friends were well off, if a little crude, and all of them dealt in cattle. He announced he was going to "get into the bloody business," and off he went to Abilene to learn something about the cattle trade.

Indians On Prowl

Some of the cowboys that brought up the late September herds had had a little trouble with a bunch of young Osage Indians who had jumped the reservation and crossed the Arkansas river into Kansas, where they wiped out several isolated ranches and harassed some crossroad outposts.

Naturally they caused no concern to the people in Abilene, who had firepower and experience enough to dispatch to the happy hunting grounds a mighty sizeable band of regenades.

But this report made the dude nervous, a condition that was immediately discerned by his associates.

One after another of them would tell of cruel massacres committed by the redskins, and

And all this by the light of a candle or coal oil lamp.

But you can read a book or magazine published a hundred years ago and you can't find a typographical fault in any of them. You find errors in newspapers, because they were put out in a hurry.

Now you can find bushels of typographical errors in anything you pick up.

The Hudson river has become so full of gold fish that fishermen take them by the thousands. They originally came from a private pond near Washington's headquarters at Newburg, which communicated with the river by an outlet.

Frank Leslie's Newspaper

how they had just escaped such a fate more than once by the skin of their teeth.

The dude became more nervous and decided he had learned all he needed to know about Texas cattle. He was going to pack his portmanteau and get on the other side of the Mississippi river, and back to his "poor and helpless wife" home in Greene county.

The boys decided to give him something by which to remember the wild and woolly west.

Bad News

They were all in the bar room of the Drover's Cottage when a man rushed in, a little out of breath and scarcely able to talk. He said a bunch of Osage braves had jumped him about 10 miles west of town and if it hadn't been for his fine horse he'd been a goner for sure.

Plans were made to get ready for defense. But the Indians didn't show up, and the dude just sweated it out waiting until the train pulled in.

Finally somebody suggested they send somebody out to scout the area, to see if the Indians were still around. He pointed to a man who knew the territory well and had done some scouting for the cavalry, which was then in the extreme northwest part of Kansas and Nebraska territory.

The man said he'd go, if he could get another good man to go with him, and he pointed to the dude.

This was about the poorest suggestion a Bay Starter ever heard, but at that is was rather complimentary — to be chosen over everybody else. "Brave chin and all that," he was pretty weak in the knees and blue around the gills but he agreed.

That Grey Horse

They headed for the livery stable. The appointed scout had a little roan bronc that was zephyr fast and the liveryman gave the dude a much better looking horse, a big and well-muscled grey.

The liveryman had made a small fortune with that grey horse. He was a natural born "jolter." That is, he refused to gallop. He had a nice walk and smooth canter, but he absolutely wouldn't gallop, no matter how much spur and whip was put to him. He would go into a stiff-kneed, high lifting trot guaranteed to jolt the rider's kidneys down to the third lumbar joint.

He had literally jolted out several sets of false teeth.

Invariably the purchaser would bring the horse back to the livery stable, and after haggling for a while the new owner would get his money back, less about $20 or so.

Riding easy, the two men took off to the south. About three miles out they came to the lee of a rather high bluff. The "scout" left his horse with the dude and eased up the hill to reconnoiter, crawling as he approached the crest — just like they do on TV today.

"They're A-comin'!"

From all appearances he saw much more than he expected, or wanted to. He bounded down the hill, piled on his bronc, shouted, "My God, they're a-comin', a hundred strong," and galloped home as fast as his little bronc could hustle.

The dude whipped up his horse, and the fun began, with both he and his mount making more distance up and down than forward. His companion disappeared, and every moment he expected to be surrounded by Indians, to be tomahawked and scalped.

He was just able to hang onto his jarring steed, and was knocked clear out of the saddle when the grey trotted right into the barn, with the door just big enough for him and nothing to spare for his rider.

A Hero

The best he could later remember everybody complimented him and wanted to shake hands, but he heard the locomotive whistle, got his valise and climbed aboard, and was mighty relieved when the train began to move toward St. Joe, Mo.

It is said that he lost all interest in the cattle trade, that he and his lovely wife returned to Boston, that neither returned to attend the grandfather's funeral.

It is also said that within a few years the lawyer who handled the estate became the richest man in the county.

Oh, well, you can hear anything. And every now and then it's the truth.

— Cecil Tendick

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Sentinel:

Hon. A. G. Burr, member of Congress from the 10th Illinois district, was in our city last Monday. He has removed his residence from Winchester to Carrollton, where he intends residing in the future.

The health of our city is very good at this time — quite as good as the average of former years.

We learn that during the storm on last Friday morning, while Mr. E. Smith was engaged in threshing wheat near Alexander, in this county, he was struck by a flash of lightning and instantly killed. The deceased leaves a wife and two children.

We learn that Mr. J. H. Hill, of Macon county, one of the largest and most successful exhibitors at the state fair, was taken suddenly ill while on the fair grounds one day last week, the symptoms being very much like cholera, and died on the 6th in Quincy. His remains passed through this city on their way to Macon county.

"Don't Hitch to this Tree," may be seen posted upon almost any of our streets. Careless people are in the habit of driving up and hitching to young shade trees that have been planted for an entirely different purpose.

From the Carrollton Gazette: Carlinville, Ill., boasts a tape worm two hundred yards long. It took two doctors two hours to extract it from a boy sixteen years old.

We hope all our readers who possible can, will come to Carrollton next week, to attend the county fair. Come on Tuesday, and stay all the week.

The flouring mill of R. W. Brewer, situated near Monterey, in Calhoun county, Ill., was destroyed by fire on Saturday night last. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary, and suspicion rests upon a certain individual, but as yet no proof has been found to justify an arrest. The loss is estimated at $2,500, and there was no insurance.

From the Beardstown Central Illinoisian:

The Brewery building is now about completed, the tinners being employed at putting on the roof. The building is a brick structure, 152 by 42 feet, three stories high, and when completely fitted out with the most modern equipment, will cost upwards to forty thousand dollars.

We wish something would happen around here. It has been so long since anything of importance came off here that we are getting rusty.

This neck of the woods was visited by a refreshing rain Friday, which gladdened every heart.

Covered wagons pass through the city by the score daily. Nearly all are faced for Missouri, where they expect to enter the land of milk and honey. If Missouri doesn't prove an eye-opener to most of them, we have missed our guess, that's all.

Let's Go Birding

Miles Of Swallows

By Emma Mae Leonard

Fall is silent and often carries an atmosphere of finished dreams. Spider webs stretch their woven patterns across many a beaten trail. Trees hang heavy with their ripening fruits; great machines move slowly in the brown bean fields, lapping up the ripe beans; corn fields are losing their rich greenness and bowing under the weight of hanging ears of maturing corn. Birds have nested and now sing to themselves of their grown-up families.

Yes, fall is the end of many a dream. Migrating birds congregate in flocks and seem to be talking over their past experiences and journeys ahead of them. Humped Bluebirds bring a bit of the autumn blue sky down into a leafless tree. Robins embroidery lawns and golf courses. Blackbirds cloud cornfields and trees. Pockets of drab songless warblers flit in the tops of yellowing trees. And swallows line telephone wires like beads on a string.

As we drive along a country road, particularly where there are swampy fields and plenty of flying insects, we are always impressed with the hundreds of swallows that stretch out before us. At times we see tiny black specks in the sky or over the fields snatching insects; these are swallows conditioning themselves for their flight south.

On September 22, two of us were privileged to visit the Horicon Refuge in Wisconsin. Late in the afternoon when we drove to the Headquarters to return the key and special permit which allowed us to explore closed areas, we saw a fabulous demonstration of swallow migration. We soon became conscious of swallows on all of the wires running along the road, of swallows on cross wires, of swallows on the roofs of great barns, of swallows in the fields, and of swallows in the road before us. We were in a world of swallows.

As we looked at them more closely, we discovered that they were all Tree Swallows; their white under parts showed even in the dusk. How many were there? We dare not guess. All we know is that this picture reaches for the two miles which we drove, and it broadened out to the right and to the left of us into unexplored areas. And we are certain that this great area would soon, perhaps that very night, be empty of the thousands of migrating visitors and as silent as the autumn becomes.

Reader Gives Her Plan For Million $$s

By Christine Hembrough

In answer to my opinions on "If I Had A Million" came this very good letter. I'm sure you'll agree! (And now how about a letter from you?)

Dear Christine,
I have read your letter regarding the million dollars. Since you want a yes or no answer I will say "no," your opinions are not the same as mine would be. But I want to compliment you on your ability to write. You did it good and you write an interesting column.

I would like to see your hand writing. Some teenagers write a very poor hand; some have an exceptionally good hand.

I am not attempting to tell you what your choices should be but may I tell you mine?

For Christian Work
First, I would take out the tenth of it for Christian work, for the tenth belongs to the Lord anyway, according to the scriptures. Just think what a lot of good $100,000 could do if spread over churches, colleges, universities, and seminaries; perhaps helping some worthy students obtain a masters degree.

Then with my $900,000 left I'd like to contribute it to the Salvation Army and Goodwill Industries, American Bible Society, Big Brothers and Big Sisters organizations, and in some way help the "school drop outs" to secure vocational training to use his or her hands and brain in the work of his choice.

As for myself, I'd like to have our house painted or covered with siding and find someone to do some work on the inside, such as washing woodwork, paper hanging, etc. It seems that skilled laborers are all very busy and unskilled are not always satisfactory.

What No TV?
I don't want any kind of a T.V. They give me a headache; and I don't want a car. I've had too many birthdays to drive now, besides the finest one could be reduced to a pile of junk in one collision.

By the way, I celebrated my 87th birthday last Sunday, Sept. 10. Had a wonderful day with many flowers, cards, letters, car rides, cakes, and callers. And I was able to attend our missionary meeting Sunday p.m. at Grace Church.

As for clothes, I go so little if I get something new it hangs in the closet and goes out of style. Of home wear dresses I have plenty and it's hard to keep them short and slender enough to fit my 74 lbs and long legs. So, what I do with the balance of my million only time will tell. I'm very content with what I have. Would be glad to hear from you.

Love and best wishes,
Jeannette Scott

Now, readers isn't that a very heart warming letter? I happen to know this lady very vaguely, and of course, I will send her a letter as soon as I get a chance to write.

I am very happy to hear that she believes in and trusts in the Bible. You know, there are so many young people as well as old who have not given God up.

I once read where the best thing a person could do for the world would be to educate oneself physically, mentally, emotionally, and spiritually—which I am trying to do now.

Thanks for writing—I really enjoy getting reader's letters, both older and younger readers. Thanks too for your comments. If you haven't received a letter yet you will soon.

All other readers YOUNG and OLD are invited to send all comments, questions, suggestions, ideas, and recipes, to me: Teen Scene Columnist, Junior Page, Jacksonville Journal Courier, Jacksonville, Ill. 62650.

FLIGHT SAFETY INCREASING

By Walter B. Hendrickson, Jr.

While the general aviation (non-military and airline) flying has increased rapidly in the past twenty years the accident rate has dropped just as sharply.

This is shown by the graph above. As the flight hours climbed from less than two million in 1939 to more than 21 million in 1966, the fatal accident rate per 100,000 flight hours has decreased at almost the same rate.

In 1966 the most dramatic change took place; while the flight hours jumped from 16 million to 21 million the fatal accident rate dropped to 2.5, its lowest in history. This was actually a twenty per cent better record than the Federal Aviation Authority (FAA) had predicted.

In March 1967, the FAA published a forecast of aviation through 1977. All the figures for 1967 were not yet in at the time so the FAA estimated that general aviation flew 17,500,000 hours during that year. By mid-July, with all the records for 1966 in, the FAA found that general aviation had actually flown 21,023,000 hours—20 per cent more than they had estimated.

More Planes Flying

In 1965 the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) reports 536 fatal accidents involving general aviation airplanes. Last year, there were 538—an increase of two. However, in 1966 the use of general aviation airplanes increased from 16,200,000 flight hours in 1965 to 21,023,000 in 1966 a jump of 5,003,000 flight hours, or 29 per cent.

This more than offsets the increase in fatal accidents. So the final result is a reduced fatal accident rate which dropped from 3.1 accidents per 10,000 flight hours in 1965 to 2.5 per 10,000 in 1966.

The decrease in more noticeable over a twenty year period. In 1946 there were 152 fewer fatal accidents than in 1946. In the same time span the number of flight hours increased from 9.8 million to 21.0 million.

In spite of this remarkable record the Aerospace Industries Association estimates that it is impractical to compare general aviation with other forms of transportation because of different bases. "For instance," the Association says, "an average general aviation pilot who flies a 150 mile-per-hour airplane 300 hours in a year will travel 45,000 miles. An average automobile driver will take three years of driving to cover this much distance. Thus, the pilot is exposed to accidents in relation to distance to a much greater degree than his auto-driving counterpart. But the pilot is exposed to accidents for a far less time period. "Similarly, general aviation accidents and airline accidents are usually not reported on the same base. Airline safety factors are given in passenger miles. Airline statistics exclude crew member fatalities, training accidents and sabotage in computing accident rates. General aviation accident figures include training flights, and exhibition flying, even suicides."

Retold From Dickens

Clemmency

By Mrs. Otto Dorr

Editor's note: The following story of "Clemmency" is retold by Mrs. Otto Dorr from Charles Dickens: "The Battle of Life" in the "Christmas Books."

Busy Day
This would be a busy day in the great stone house with a breakfast party planned for young Alford who must leave for school. Since daylight Britain the cook, had watched his great roast and fragrant ham cooking in the fireplace.

Clemmency, the maid, had repeatedly jogged from the cellar to the kitchen with her preparations and now must run to the orchard. Only her clumsy shoes, blue stockings and flowered calico dress marked her place on a ladder, her white fast party. At the dining room door he shouted "Britain, Britain! Come, come! You had better serve breakfast on the lawn!" Hastily Britain appeared to answer as loudly, "I cannot move the tables alone! We shall do it as soon as Clemmency returns."

Best China
Spilling apples as she hurried Clemmency hurried indoors to promptly emerge at one end of the long table with Britain at the other. Next a shorter table stood on the lawn, chairs were stationed in their places and a white tablecloth deftly spread to carry the best china and silver.

The household now gathered, Marion and Grace in pretty frocks and Alford a bit warm after bumping his luggage out to the gate in readiness for the morning stage coach. Clemmency sighted two guests coming down the lane easing the Doctor's worry lest breakfast be delayed.

Presently all six were seated at the table as Britain carried his steaming roast and fragrant ham to his serving buffet where a carving knife waited. Diligently Clemmency passed and served though she poured tea in something of flurried fashion that the coach might arrive.

At length empty plates allowed her to bring pen and ink from the house for certain legal papers must be processed under Snitchey and Craggs direction. "Witnesses are essential," Snitchey announced brusquely, calling the two servants, however he frowned skeptically at Clemmency, "You can read, I presume."

LITTLE JOE

Part 3: Sad Parting
Danny has had a happy summer on the farm with his grandparents but now it is time to go back to school and to his parents in the city apartment. This would not be so bad if it were not for Little Joe the orphan fox that Danny had found and taken care of as a pet. He couldn't keep him in the apartment, and his grandparents were too busy to care for Little Joe. Danny's grandfather suggests letting the young fox go back to the wild, but Danny is afraid there might be danger for the little fellow.

Although finally convinced that Gramps was right, it still was not going to be easy to part with Little Joe. He had taught him a lot of cute little tricks since he had found him in the woods that day. To sit up and beg for his food and to follow along on a leash like a well-trained dog just to mention a few.

Danny broke out of his pensive mood and hurried out to the corridor to peer down the stairway when he heard Grandma calling to him from the first floor. She stood on the bottom step waving a letter in her hand.

"It's from your mother, dear," she said as cheerfully as she could. "She wants us to send you home on the night train."

Packing To Go
For the next couple of hours or so Danny was busy sorting through an assortment of various items he had managed to accumulate in his room. His efforts at picking up what he considered some pretty valuable keepsakes found scattered about the farm throughout the summer had been productive to say the least. The list included just about everything from a rooster's spur to a petrified snail.

Some of course, he'd have to leave behind, but the most priceless ones he'd take home with him to show off at school. The nearly complete skeleton of a young pig, for instance, would be a real eye-opener to a bunch of city kids.

Freedom Time
It was near the end of day and Gramps was bringing the car around to take him to the train when Danny put a leash on Little Joe and led him up on a hill back of the house. For just a moment he hesitated, and then he slipped the collar off his neck and turned him loose.

For a second or so the peppy little bundle of wildlife remained unmoving as though puzzled by this unusual behavior on the part of his youthful trainer. Then seeming to sense all at once that he was free at last, he whirled away running at full speed toward the timberline at the top of the hill.

At the crest of a slight ridge he stopped to look back and for a moment he remained unmoving as though in a gesture of farewell. Then with his silky reddish coat glistening beautifully in the rays of a fading sun he moved into the dense forest and was gone.

Danny turned away and started to the house. He'd have a lot of interesting things to remember from his stay at Gramps' and Grandma's place. Many would bring back fond memories but the most cherished by far would be the memory of Little Joe.

Prayer Poem

Preparedness

By Mary Pence Claywell

See the green corn falling,
Ground to little bits. . .
No doubt, the farmers hauling loads,
Are going to "silo" it:
Dust and grime are prevalent,
That few folk think about. . .
And callouses are common things,
Some think. . . have faded out:
Little of commotion,
Quietly, these men toil. . .
But they have solid Partnership,
The men who till the soil:
Rain or hail, or sunshine,
They're aware that God
Still controls the elements,
The guys. . . who work the sod:
And every time I see one,
Who rides a great "iron" steed,
I thank The Good Lord, knowing,
That "ALL" of us. . . will FEED!

cap and apron pushed about by twigs, as she lowered a basket of tree top apples to step cautiously downward, rung by rung.

Meanwhile the Doctor explored the house; nothing seemed to be ready for his breakfast.

Spending Spree Predicted For U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are likely to go on a spending spree during the next year, stepping up their buying of houses, new cars and such big-money household items as washers, air conditioners and furniture.

A Commerce Department survey released Monday was based on the buying expectations of 12,000 families. The department noted that developments unforeseen by the consumers when the survey was made in July could change the buying picture.

Averaging results of similar surveys made last January and April, department economists assigned the number 100 to purchasing expectation as a baseline for various items.

On that basis, the house buying index was set at 106.6 in July compared with 101.9 in April and 98.1 in January.

The index for new-car purchases was 111.1, up from 96.1 in April and 105.6 in January.

The used-car index lagged, however, at 96.7.

The index for household appliances and other expensive goods for the home was 104.1 in July. This compares with 97.1 in April and 102.7 in January.

Household items covered by the survey include dryers, refrigerators, radios, hi-fi equipment, color and black-and-white television sets, stoves, carpets and other floor coverings.

Henry J. Meyer Joins Public Health Staff

Henry J. Meyer, a member of the staff of the Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School for the past eighteen years, has resigned his position at the school in order to accept an appointment with the Illinois Department of Public Health. Mr. Meyer will serve as Vision Screening Consultant with headquarters in Springfield. He reported for his new assignment on Monday, October 2.

Henry J. Meyer

The position is in the Bureau of School Health which is part of the Division of Preventive Medicine.

As Supervising Teacher of Exceptional Children for the past five years, Mr. Meyer successfully initiated a program of returning visually handicapped students to their local public school programs. This was effected through the cooperation of the Office of Public Instruction and local school officials. Mr. Meyer served as liaison between the IBSSS and participating schools. The Illinois plan has served as a model for other agencies interested in providing the most advanced programs for visually handicapped children.

During the past two years, Mr. Meyer has served on an advisory committee to the Office of Public Instruction which has established the Educational Materials Coordinating Unit for Visually Handicapped. This unit will continue the program of services to students at Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School.

Mrs. Mildred Pinson, Mrs. Mary Potts, Mrs. Jane Wege-hoff and Henry Aldridge, members of the Courtesy Committee, arranged a farewell tea in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer on Thursday, September 28. Superintendent Jack Hartong presented Mr. Meyer a gift from the teaching and professional staff in recognition of his work and as a token of esteem.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer and children, Rob, Rick, Christine and Kathy, reside at 807 South East. They plan to remain in Jacksonville.

ANDERSON CLAYTON BOOSTS DIVIDENDS TO SHAREHOLDERS

RICHARDSON, Tex. — Anderson, Clayton & Co. has announced a 20 percent increase in its annual dividend from $1.00 to $1.20 a share, beginning with the quarterly payment on October 27, 1967 to shareholders of record on October 13.

In announcing the increase, President T. J. Barlow said the Company has substantially completed its large cash-type investment in building and acquisitions contemplated five years ago when the dividend was reduced to build up cash requirements. He added, "With this investment program mostly behind us and with the prospects of future earnings indicating our ability to pay higher dividends, the Board of Directors voted to disburse an increased share of earnings to our stockholders."

The quarterly Director's meeting was held at Richardson, Texas, near Dallas, to honor one of the firm's co-founders, W. L. Clayton, in whose name the firm's new foods Research Center was dedicated recently.

The Houston-based company is an international processor and distributor of foods, feeds and seeds, cotton and green coffee and is engaged in merchandise warehousing, insurance and machinery manufacturing.

Business — Market Wrapup

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market Friday extended its mild advance through a second session as the trading pace picked up.

Prices were ahead from the start, reached their peak in early afternoon and then slipped.

Volume expanded to 9.84 million shares from 8.49 million Thursday, when opening of the Jewish religious holidays curtailed activity.

Brokers said they expected the market for the next several sessions would be in a period of base-building which could lead to new high levels later in the fall.

Motors, from implements, aircrafts, electronics, oils, airlines and drugs led the advance. Rubbers and rails were lower.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose 1.61 to 928.74. The Associated Press 60-stock average gained 4 to 337.2 with industrials up .8, rails off .2 and utilities up .4.

Of 1,469 issues traded, 702 advanced and 532 declined. There were 121 new 1967 highs and 34 new lows.

Among the 15 most-active stocks, 10 advanced, 3 declined and Brunswick and Budd were unchanged.

Amphenol, up 2 1/4 to 43 1/2 on 183,200 shares, bounced back to the top of the most active list.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. The exchange index rose 21 cents to $23.11. Volume totaled 5.32 million shares, compared with 3.64 million Thursday.

"IDEA" CHECK — Dennis Strubbe (seated) of 126 Freddie street, Indian Harbour Beach, Florida, formerly of this city, recently received a check for $200 from the Apollo Support Department at Cape Kennedy. The suggestion, which received the second highest award, recommended a unique method of saving time on calibration of equipment during maintenance and repair cycles performed during tests.

Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Strubbe of this city.

President, Congress Square Off For Key Economic Battles

By PHIL THOMAS
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson said it was "neither necessary nor wise" this past week to put his proposal for an income tax boost on ice until federal spending cuts are determined.

The House Ways and Means Committee earlier in the week said it was shelving the President's proposal for a 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes until "the President and Congress reach an understanding on means of implementing more effective expenditures, reductions and controls."

Johnson told a news conference he was not responding to the committee's action, saying, "We don't want to reply and get in fights."

The President argued the entire nation would pay a burdensome inflation tax "if it fails to face up to its responsibilities" in handling tax and appropriations legislation.

He said his January budget, calling for outlays of $136 billion in the 1968 fiscal year that began July 1, was "carefully drawn, fiscally responsible and prudent."

He said the administration could not decide intelligently where to cut spending until Congress passed the appropriation bills.

The House Ways and Means

Committee members voted 20 to 5 to set the tax bill aside, but said they would pull it out and give it priority consideration if and when the President and Congress reached an understanding.

"For a tax bill to pass, we have to have a degree of expenditure control first," Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said. "I don't know if it can pass the House even then, and I don't know if I'd be for it . . . but I do know that in the existing situation there is no chance of getting a bill through the committee or the House."

Some sources said they felt there still was a slim chance Congress could enact a tax bill which would be effective Jan. 1 but that, in order to persuade Congress to do so, the administration would have to cut spending by $5 billion or more.

Whether or not such a bill is enacted the nation still faces inflationary dangers, two leading bank economists said.

Roy L. Reiersen, vice president of Bankers Trust Co. of New York, said fiscal restraint was needed through higher taxes and reduced federal spending. Leif H. Olsen, vice president of First National City Bank of New York, predicted that even with a tax increase consumer prices in 1968 would climb by 3 per cent to 3 1/2 per cent.

Meanwhile, the United Auto Workers Union strike against Ford Motor Co. entered its second month with the effects spreading.

The U.S. Army said it had asked Ford and the UAW to arrange for the shipment from Ford depots of parts needed for military vehicles in Vietnam. American Motors Corp. said the supply of certain parts it buys from Ford will be gone by the end of October and will cause a bottleneck if production isn't resumed soon.

Despite Ford's idle production lines, auto output for the industry for the week was expected to fall only 2 per cent behind that of the previous week.

The dip was ascribed to the elimination of Saturday overtime at General Motors Corp. and American Motors, which offset a planned sharp increase in Chrysler Corp. production.

GM, Chrysler and AMC were expected to turn out 142,502 cars during the week, compared with 145,147 the previous week and 167,495 in the same 1966 week when Ford was producing.

MEEK ATTENDS CLOSED CIRCUIT TV WORKSHOP

James S. Meek, 5 Queens Lane, Jacksonville, Ill., has recently completed a five-day closed circuit television workshop offered by the Ampex Video Institute.

Meek, director of program planning and production, Illinois Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, was one of a group of persons from education, business and industry from various parts of the nation attending the CCTV workshop. The workshop offers instruction in basic television including videotape production, camera, microphone and studio lighting techniques.

AVI, established in September, 1966, by Ampex Corporation's consumer and educational products division, Elk Grove Village, Illinois, is the only school of its kind in the nation.

JAY T. TOOLEY JOINS STATE HOSPITAL STAFF

Jay T. Tooley, formerly a member of the faculty at Wichita State University, has joined the staff of Jacksonville State Hospital as director of program-integrated training according to an announcement by Dr. Steve Pratt, superintendent.

As coordinator of education and training, Mr. Tooley will handle training programs both on campus and off campus.

A native of the State of Kansas, he attended the University of Notre Dame, University of Vienna and the Fort Hays, Kansas, State College, where he received his master's degree in clinical psychology in 1961.

Mr. Tooley's experience has included supervision of all psychological services for a 250 bed hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Tooley are the parents of two children.

Soybeans Score Top Gain Of Year; Best Harvest Forecast

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans futures, which have been declining in price with seemingly monotonous regularity since September 1966, scored their best weekly advance in a year on the Chicago Board of Trade last week.

Despite the harvesting of what the U. S. Department of Agriculture says will be the largest production, soybeans advanced from 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 cents a bushel and influenced higher prices for soybean meal.

When trade closed for the week on Friday, wheat futures were unchanged to 3/4 of a cent a bushel higher, December 1.15-14 1/4; oats were unchanged to 1 1/2 higher, December 71 cents; rye was 2 to 2 1/4 cents lower, December 1.19 1/2, while the nearby soybeans, November, closed at 2.66 1/2-67.

Soybean meal closed 170 to 300 points higher for the week, October 74.80-75, while soybean oil closed 5 to 12 points lower, October 8.71.

Choice steers closed 5 cents higher to 18 cents lower, October 26.90-92.

The harvesting of corn and soybeans, both record crops this year, is well under way. The Department of Agriculture has estimated 1967 corn production at nearly 4.7 billion bushels and soybeans at 1 billion bushels for the first time. Wheat harvesting, which has been completed, totaled a record 1.5 billion bushels. All estimates are subject to revision in December when final totals will be made known.

Soybeans and soybean meal closed on a lower tone Monday; but weather reports the next day indicated some rain in the Midwest and, in the belief this might possibly delay harvest work, prices rose. Scattered rain fell during the week in sections of the harvesting region, but farmers reportedly began to withhold soybeans from markets in an attempt to boost sagging prices.

The tightness of soybeans affected processors and other commercial outlets who bid up prices of soybeans and soybean meal for four straight sessions. Conversely, however, soybeans crushed to produce meal also produces soybean oil, which is in over supply and prices declined on this commodity.

Wheat futures were under pressure of trade reports that Canada and Argentina may have more of the bread grain for export this year, but firmed up near the end of the week under favorable domestic exports to India, Pakistan and Brazil.

Corn, like soybeans, withstood the assault of a growing harvest and after the opening session of the week, firmed up and turned up four straight sessions of higher prices. Good export buying and a possible slowdown of harvesting because of wet fields tended to support higher prices.

Oats and rye trade was light and prices irregular. Rye, traders said, probably will show little strength until export trade develops.

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS

CHICAGO (AP) — (USDA) — Official estimated livestock receipts for Monday are 11,000 cattle, 7,000 hogs and 500 sheep.

American Menu

Shrimp Cocktail in Season

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Q — When will shrimp be more moderate in price? We love shrimp cocktail.

A — Fresh and frozen shrimp, particularly small and medium-sized ones, are expected to be plentiful during October. That indicates prices will be more moderate.

Other important foods on the plentiful foods lists include broiler - fryers, potatoes and oranges. It's wise to plan your menus around them. They should be attractively priced.

Q — I heard a man say on radio recently that eating garlic would help reduce my high blood pressure. Is that true?

A — Both garlic and onion are used mainly for flavoring. They have little or practically no nutritive value. Sometimes food faddists try to sell the idea that garlic can help in the treatment of high blood pressure, cancer and other diseases. Medical experts brand such statements as nonsense.

Lutheran Seminar Oct. 15 At Salem School

Dr. H. J. A. Bouman, professor at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, will be speaker at the Fall Seminar of the Lutheran Laymen's League, Zone Seven of the Central Illinois District, to be held at 7:15 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 15 at Salem Lutheran School. His topic will be "Current Difficulties to Lutheran Union." Discussion by the entire assembly will follow.

Dr. H. J. A. Bouman

After serving parishes in Canton and Geneva, Ohio, Decatur, Ind., and Sheboygan, Wis., Dr. Bouman came to Concordia in 1954 and teaches in the Department of Systematic Theology. He has been a member of the Synod's Committee on Doctrinal Unity since 1953 and of the Synod's Board of Appeal since 1947. He has lectured in many areas of Synod on the problems of Lutheran Unity.

The Seminar begins with devotion by Salem's pastor, Rev. Herbert C. Rose, who also serves as spiritual adviser to the Zone. Roy Lovkamp will serve as organist and direct the Zone Lutheran Male Chorus.

Guests are expected from churches in Arenzville, Bath, Beardstown, Bluffs, Chandler, Chapin, New Berlin, Rushville, Waverly and Winchester.

P. Jack Meyer of this city serves as president of Zone 7; Robert A. Day of Winchester as president of the Jacksonville club and Edward Middendorf as seminar chairman.

A fellowship dinner will be served at 6 p.m. Reservations should be made with the local L. L. club presidents by Wednesday, Oct. 11.

Last Southern stronghold to be captured by the Union Army during the Civil War was Mobile, Ala.

McKenna Heads Pike Christmas Seal Campaign

PITTSFIELD — Hiram McKenna was named chairman for the Christmas seal campaign, according to announcement by Mrs. Harold Brangenberg, president of the Pike County Christmas seal committee of the Illinois Valley Tuberculosis Association. Mr. McKenna is executive vice president of the First National Bank in Pittsfield.

Seals are a tradition with all of us, but few people realize how much good is accomplished with them. Ninety-three per cent of the money stays in the county and state. The other seven per cent goes to the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association for important projects including research.

"Locally, the money," McKenna continued, "pays for tuberculosis skin testing and education of the public about the disease."

Plans for conducting the campaign will be made in the next few weeks and announced to the public.

Los Angeles has 9,400 scientists among its population.

ILLINOIS STATE EMPLOYEES LOCAL 38 sponsored a cultural weekend on the campus of Jacksonville State Hospital which ends today. The public may view the entries in art, crafts, and many other categories at various locations throughout the hospital campus until 5 o'clock this afternoon. Dick Tschetter, left, head of volunteer services at the hospital, and H. Wayne Chambers, right, president of Local 38, welcomed the Meredosia High School Band to the bandstand Saturday afternoon. Band Director Pryor Bentley is at center, flanked by a portion of the band. The weekend event is believed to be the first such program sponsored by the union, and certainly the first on a hospital campus. There is no admission charge. The union picked up the tab for about $800 in prize checks which were distributed to the hundreds of participants.

Women On Vestries In Episcopal Church Approved By Synod

Women have just been made eligible to serve on the Vestries of Episcopal Churches in the Diocese of Springfield by action of the 90th Synod of the Diocese of Springfield held at Trinity Episcopal Church in Jacksonville Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Roth S. Smith of Morton, President of the Episcopal Church Women of the Springfield Diocese greeted the change in the rules of the Diocese which had previously restricted membership on Vestries with the statement, that, "now women must learn to take on additional responsibilities in their churches and in the Diocese."

The Synod also passed unanimously a resolution affirming "the right of all men to live where they choose according to their economic ability" and stating its belief that a fair housing law should be passed by the Illinois Legislature.

The Right Reverend Albert Arthur Chambers, D.D., S.T.D., Bishop of Springfield, presided over the Synod which was attended by three-hundred delegates and observers.

Bishop Chambers, in his address to the Synod, spoke of the growth and accomplishments of the Diocese in recent years and of the challenges and responsibilities that it and the Episcopal Church face. He called for "renewed discipleship, deeper and fuller worship" and for "a confidence based on faith."

Among other major items of business transacted by the Synod were the election of Trustees of the Diocese, clerical and lay members of the Diocesan Council and Standing Committee of the Diocese. A budget of $217,148.06 for 1968 was adopted. This budget, twenty-eight thousand dollars higher than last year's budget, was adopted to support the work of the Diocese, support the national program of the Episcopal Church, missionary activity at home and abroad, work among college students, and the Inner City Ministry in East St. Louis.

The Rev. Reginald M. Harris, Rector of Trinity Church, was appointed rural dean of the Jacksonville Diocese. Robert E. Bradney of Jacksonville was elected a trustee of the Diocese.

Pallbearers were Bruce Evans, Lawrence Coultas, Ronald Hayes, Lewis Turner, Richard Welsh, and Robert Donovan. Burial was in Winchester City cemetery.

"OH, I'D LOVE TO BE AN OSCAR MAYER WIENER" — Two members of the Beardstown High School band never thought who'd be playing their instruments Saturday afternoon at the dedication ceremonies of the Oscar Mayer plant there. Seen left is Oscar Mayer Jr., chairman of the board, and Congressman Paul Findley. Both played in high school bands, and when each acknowledged it, Mayer asked Findley if he still could find the scale. Findley received a trombone and began, and Mayer was loaned a clarinet and the two finished the number, much to the delight of the crowd.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. David Kniffen of 1637½ South Main street became parents of a son born at 9:41 a.m. Saturday at Passavant hospital.

Word has been received here by Mrs. Thelma Wohlers, Jacksonville route four of the birth of a daughter Sept. 30th to her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Barrington of Macomb. The little girl, named Christina Jane, is the couple's first child.

Sparks From Trash Set Fire To Brown House

MT. STERLING—Trash burning sent sparks aloft Wednesday afternoon and caught fire to a roof of a vacant house here. The Mt. Sterling fire department responded and kept damage to a minimum. The fire was back of the local Gulf Service Station.

Cut By Saw
A Mt. Sterling Man, Lloyd Lipcaman, received painful lacerations about his head and face while operating a power saw. He received treatment at the Culbertson hospital in Rushville and was a patient for several days before being dismissed to his home here.

Bessie Reeder of Mt. Sterling is a patient at Culbertson hospital.

Matthew Umphreys has been dismissed from Culbertson hospital and returned to his home at Ripley.

Donald McCoy of Mt. Sterling is a patient at Blessing hospital in Quincy where he was taken after suffering a severe heart attack.

TWO VEHICLES

DAMAGED SATURDAY
Two vehicles were damaged shortly after four o'clock Saturday afternoon near the intersection of Broadway alley and West Beecher.

City police stated that a vehicle, driven by Robert L. Brown of 223 West College, struck a large stone in the alley and ran out of control, striking a stopped vehicle, operated by Lawrence C. Cochran of route five.

United Fund Hits 83% Mark Saturday

With Tuesday set as the final report, the United Fund is still $21,000 short of its goal of $120,000. Ralph Troyer said, "Our Division Chairmen know that if we are to make our goal every division must reach its goal. In order to make up the $14,000 that we were short last year every division's goal was set at their maximum potential. There will be little or no excess in any division to make up for those that miss. Volunteers must secure every dollar possible to assist their chairmen in this task."

Saturday's report was $99,360. The first division over 100% is the Finance Division under the leadership of Ed McCurdy and Ray Shanley. Several divisions have big jobs ahead of them to reach 100% by Tuesday.

The report to date by divisions is:

Div.	I	Finance	Goal	To Date	Percent
Div. II	Key Employers	40,000	$12,123	35,878	89%
Div. III	Education	7,000	5,837	83%
Div. IV	County	6,000	5,635	94%
Div. V	Government	2,000	1,706	85%
Div. VI	Professions	8,000	7,477	93%
Div. VII	Business	19,000	10,728	55%
Div. VIII	Miscellaneous	6,000	5,414	90%
Div. IX	State Institutions	11,000	8,684	86%
Div. X	Construction	9,000	5,378	65%

Gilbert Todd urged those especially in the residences to call the United Fund Office if they have been missed. He spoke highly of the job that Co-Chairmen Mrs. P. J. Davidsmeyer and Mrs. Lee Sullivan, Jr. and their captives have done, with less than $600 to secure. The captains represent the United Fund Agencies. They are: American Red Cross, Mrs. John T. Taylor; Big Brothers & Big Sisters, Mrs. Ned Jackson; Boy Scouts, Howard Elze; Catholic Charities, Mrs. Norbert McGinnis; Elm City Rehabilitation Center, Mrs. Herman Baker; Girl Scouts, Mrs. Albert McGinnis; Rescue Squad, Thomas Spradlin; Salvation Army, Floyd Craft; Visiting Nurses, Mrs. Charles Gibson; and Y.M.C.A., Donald Houser.

United Fund Volunteers are reminded that Tuesday has been set as the final report and all cards should be reported by then.

Hold City Teen Friday Evening

A 17-year-old youth was held in custody for city police Friday night at the county jail on a charge of illegal consumption of alcohol.

Authorities identified the youth as Jim R. Turner of 1014 West College, who was taken into custody at 10:35 p.m.

Officers said the youth was apprehended at the intersection of South Prairie and Morgan streets.

He was held in custody in lieu of $200 cash bail.

Another young man, Jerry Suttles of 1080 North Fayette, was brought to the county jail about 2 a.m. Saturday by state police on a charge of theft. Suttles was later released on bond and is scheduled to appear in court at a later date.
